St. Andrew's Church Ladies' Aid Entertained District Societies

Mrs. James McAvoy, of Burnbrae, Guest Speaker — Good Programme Given

Last Thursday afternoon St. Andrew's Church was the scene of a very happy event, when the ladies from that church played the part of hostess to the members of Ladies' Aids from Foxboro, West Huntingdon and Burnbrae.

The Church auditorium was made most attractive with potted plants and spring flowers. Mrs. E. Foster, the President, called the meeting to order and spoke works of welcome to the guests. The spirit of fellowship was greatly enhanced by music on the piano by Mrs. V. Matthews. Mrs. Don Fargey read the Scripture Lesson from Psalm 27. Mrs. R. Hermiston led the meeting in prayer. After the singing of a hymn, Mrs. A. V. Greenley read the minutes of the last meeting. A review of these minutes each month keeps the members informed as to the progress of the work.

Mrs. Roy Eggleton and Mrs. S. McIntosh took up the offering, while Mrs. V. Matthews played soft music. Mrs. Don McIntosh delighted the members of the meeting as she sang so sweetly "Bless This House."

The West Huntingdon group was represented on the programme as Mrs. Barton Haggerty sang a solo, which was an inspiration to the meeting. Mrs. Harper Rollins spoke brief words of introduction to the guest speaker, Mrs. (Rev.) Jas. McAvoy.

In her opening remarks, Mrs. McAvoy expressed her sincere appreciation of the programme thus far. Her subject, "Fear and the Cure of Fear," had a lesson for each person present. If we face our duties with God's help, we become brave to face the future. We need have no fear. There will always be a seed time and a harvest. We are too busy. We must have time to be alone. God speaks to us in different days. Be of good courage. We shall not faint. We shall have peace that floweth on like a river. Our direction is the Bible. We are all over anxious about our bodily food. We need spiritual food and fellowship with prayer.

Miss Gena Spry gave a reading entitled "The Ladies' Aid." After the singing of a hymn the meeting was brought to a close with prayer. Mrs. E. Foster invited the guests to the Church Parlours where afternoon tea was served. Mrs. Earl Fox and her committee are to be congratulated for their efforts in making the parlours such a happy place.

Mrs. Milne, of Burnbrae, thanked the Stirling ladies on behalf of the visitors. A solo by Mr. Home McAvoy made a fitting climax to a very worthwhile meeting.

Local School Teams Win

The girls' basketball team of the Stirling High School "covered themselves with glory" last night in a friendly game with Bancroft High School, defeating the visitors by a score of 36-22.

The guards, Roberta Good, Lois Mason, Isabelle Fox, Shirley Rennie and Shirley Elliott "kept the enemy at bay" by their good play.

Irma Campbell was referee; Grace Carleton, time keeper; Joan Green, scorer; Shirley Ackers, board scorer.

The girls of Grades XII and XI prepared and served a welcome lunch. They are very grateful to all who so willingly and generously assisted in donations as well as in serving the lunch.

Boy's Game

Dr. W. Cornett was referee.

St. John's W.A.

The regular meeting of St. John's W.A. was held in the Parish Hall with fifteen members present. The opening hymn, "Thy Kingdom Come, O God," was followed by the Litany, read by Mrs. Rodgers and the Member's Prayer in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Correspondence, which consisted of a letter acknowledging the bale which was sent to All Saint's Indian Residential School, Prince Albert; the report of the regular Diocesan Board meeting at Kingston, and a letter from the M.S.C.C. concerning the Church Calendars was read by the Secretary. Mrs. E. Cooke read the Scripture Lesson. Mrs. T. Tanner gave the Treasurer's report. The thank-offering was handed in by several members.

Mrs. J. B. Belshaw read a report of the Junior W.A. Festival which was held at St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, in March. Mrs. E. Cooke reported for E.C.D. Fund. Mrs. E. Kent, Diocesan Dorcas Secretary-Treasurer, made an appeal for quilts, layettes, hospital suplies and Christmas gifts. Extra work is to be done by the branch, as one of the visiting committee, Mrs. Rodgers, reported eight calls made during March. Mrs. S. Boyce and Mrs. M. Tanner are the visiting committee for May and the programme committee will be Mrs. Earl Morrow and Mrs. J. Stiles.

Due to the illness of Mrs. B. Woodbeck, who had volunteered to be delegate to the annual Diocesan W.A., Mrs. Rodgers was chosen in her place. Mrs. Vance read her synopsis of the Study Book.

The programme prepared by Mrs. E. Cooke and Mrs. McMurray consisted of an interesting reading by Mrs. W. Wright on the life of the authors of two well-known hymns, "Thou Art The Way, To Thee Alone," and "Rock of Ages." Mrs. Cooke read a short poem, "A Cent Talks," in which we find that one cent is welcome at a W.A. meeting but practically no place else. Mrs. McMurray read "Figure of Happiness."

Mrs. H. Cooke moved a vote of thanks to those who took part in the programme and those who provided lunch. The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem and prayer by Mrs. Secker. Tea was served.

BOY SCOUTS AT ST. JOHN'S SUNDAY

Stirling Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs attended divine service in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday evening at 7.30 p.m. The boys gathered at the Community Hall and led by Scout Leader Joe Irish paraded to the Church.

A large congregation was present and Rev. H. C. Secker, L.Th., Rector, conducted the service. The choir rendered the Rogation Anthem, "O Lord Stretch Forth Thy Mighty Hand."

The Rector spoke on the subject of preparedness, relating it to the theme of Rogation and the blessing of the seed. As the Scout prepares himself for life, so the farmer prepares the seed for planting. The proper preparation for every phase of life is very important. All professions and scientific expeditions need careful preparation. The most important preparation of all is that of the spirit and soul of man.

The story of Samuel was used to point out the preparation needed to be ready for God's call. David's successful encounter with Goliath was the result of spiritual preparedness.

The boys were urged to learn the importance and necessity of careful preparation of the soul, so as to be witnesses for Christ and useful citizens.

School For Week Longer

All Ontario Secondary School students in Grades nine to twelve will be required to attend school for at least a week longer this June than they have done in the past, as the result of a directive from the department of education.

The move stems from a belief at Queen's Park that a certain amount of time is wasted in June and that secondary schools do not operate at full capacity that month, according to a department official.

The Department of Education's move is, in a sense, in line with a recommendation made by the Royal Commission on education. The Commission deplored the action of letting students in lower forms out for the summer while seniors stayed on to write exams.

Possible Power Interruptions

SUNDAY, MAY 6th

On the above date, starting about 8 a.m. and continuing approximately for 10 or 12 hours, the Ontario Hydro Power Commission's engineers will conduct certain transmission line tests on the 230,000 volt transmission line between Chenaux and the Peterborough transformer station. These tests may cause short interruptions to power supply in Stirling. They may also cause severe voltage fluctuations. Customers are therefore especially warned to protect their electrical equipment which might be affected by these tests.

With her husband she moved to Belleville in 1892, where Mr. Haslett followed the blacksmith trade. They moved to Western Canada, where Mr. Haslett conducted a large farm. On his retirement he moved to Edmonton.

Surviving are a brother, Sidney Mason and a sister, Mrs. Robert Bonter, of Marmora.

Butter, Cheese Production Down

Production of both butter and cheddar cheese has fallen off in Ontario, and stocks of both products on hand are considerably lower than they were a year ago.

At the same time, according to the monthly dairy report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, commercial sales of fluid milk, cultured milk and chocolate dairy drink have been showing an increase. Although the report offers no explanations for these trends, farmers are believed to have changed their production programmes due to high beef prices and oleo competition.

All over Ontario, in recent months, dairy animals have been going to market as beef, and at the same time others have been sold to the United States as breeding stock. Export shipments to South America have also claimed large numbers of Canadian dairy animals. Some farmers have decided to quit the dairy industry because of the labor shortage, while others have switched to whole milk production because of comparatively high returns.

The monthly dairy report notes that Ontario creameries turned out 3,793,500 pounds of butter during March, a drop of 17.6 per cent from last year's production of 4,605,800. Cheddar cheese production showed a drop of 23.7 per cent from 1,661,800 pounds a year ago to 1,268,300 pounds.

Total output of creamery butter for the first three months of this year was 9,450,600 pounds, as compared to 11,361,000 during the same period last year. Cheese production during the first three months of the year also showed a decrease.

In the case of stocks on hand, the total for Canada at April 1st was 9,899,000 pounds of butter, and 35,040,000 pounds of cheese.

In March this year the wholesale price of creamery butter in Toronto averaged 78.4 cents, while last year it was 59.9 cents. For cheese the 1951 March average was 40.9 cents, and in 1950, 28.8 cents.

Production of condensed, evaporated and powdered milk was up this year.

Homemaking Club Achievement Day

Achievement Certificates Presented — Colourful Display of Girls' Handiwork

"Our bedrooms will be brighter now and we will take more pride in them." This is what Homemaking Clubs members in Hastings County are saying now that they have completed the project "Cotton Accessories for the Club Girl's Bedroom."

The Achievement Day display at the Community Hall, Stirling, was a colorful one with the bedspreads, dresser scarves, chair pads and waste paper baskets which the girls had made. Eighty-five club members from Chapman, Cooper-Remington, Eldorado, Queensboro, Ivanhoe, West Huntingdon, Stirling, Wallbridge, Chatterton, Plainfield and Philipston—Zion and Bonarlaw took part in the Day's programme. They judged classes of dresser scarves and chair pads and planned the colour scheme of accessories for a room.

In the afternoon, exhibits were presented and commented on by Marilyn Parks, of Cooper-Remington; Barbara Benson, of Ivanhoe; Shirley Elliott, of West Huntingdon; Eileen Cook, of Stirling; Mary Bertrand, Plainfield; Lois Mitts, of Chatterton; Jean Frost, of Wallbridge; Lamoine Post, Eldorado; and Dorothy Sills, of West Huntingdon. Bonarlaw girls presented a demonstration showing the making of bias binding while West Huntingdon and Plainfield clubs gave skits on "Cotton Accessories for the Club Girl's Bedroom."

WALLBRIDGE W.I. OBSERVES 50th ANNIVERSARY

The members of Wallbridge Women's Institute entertained their husbands and other noted guests at a banquet in the 4th Line Community Hall (Stone Church), Sidney, to mark the occasion of 50 years of service in that district on Friday, April 27th.

In 1901 sixty-nine women met at the home of Mrs. G. Thrasher at Centenary to organize the beginning of the Wallbridge Branch. Wallbridge is the oldest Branch in West Hastings District and helped to mark this 50 years of district service at the District Annual at Stirling in June, 1950.

The W. I. was honoured in having at this 50th anniversary the first president, Mrs. Sam Lloyd; 4 other charter members, Mrs. Nell Davis, Mrs. Judson Kelly, Mrs. Walter Tucker and Mrs. Frank Treverton. Along with other officials of the W.I. was Mrs. Purcell, of Fort William, the Provincial President; Warden and Mrs. Harry Coulter; Reeve Grills, of Sirney, and Rev. and Mrs. Neelands, Sidney Curcuit, with all taking active parts during the programme.

At the centre of the head table was a beautiful birthday cake with 50 candles. Mrs. A. Fisher, Past President lit the candles. Mrs. E. B. Finkle, Secretary-Treasurer of West Hastings District, blew them out, making a wish that Wallbridge would continue to keep up the good work of the past, which she briefly outlined. The first President, Mrs. Lloyd, cut the cake.

Mrs. Everett Phillips, current President acted as toast master with the following taking part; To charter members, Mrs. Laurence Ketcheson with Mrs. Lloyd replying; to County of Hastings, Mr. Klem Ketcheson and Warden Harry Coulter; to Sidney Township, Mrs. Bert Bush and Reeve Lee Grills; to Women's Institute, Mrs. Jim Sine, who noted the W.I. was the largest rural women's organization in 24 countries, with Mrs. Clarence Holmes, Past Provincial President, replying. She gave a sketch of the organization from Branch to International and stated that the W.I. throughout the world aimed largely for the betterment of rural living; to the ladies, by Mr. Sam Nicolson with reply by Mrs. Cecil Sine.

Greetings were brought from the following: West Hastings District, Mrs. Roy Bush, President; Belleville Area, Mrs. Kenneth Faul, President; Federation W.I. of Ontario, Mrs. Purcell, President; Rev. C. W. Neelands, United minister of Sidney Circuit, who noted how closely the W.I. was linked in its work and aims with the church. Mrs. Harold Phillips, current Secretary, read greetings from Miss Lewis, Superintendent, other charter members, other branches and others who could not be present.

One of the interesting features of the programme was the fashion show, presenting the trend in women's fashions from before the time of the W.I. to a present day model. This was especially interesting and appropriate, because most of these 28 girls wore models which had been worn by W.I. members of Wallbridge. They wore or carried suitable accessories such as capes, bags, jewellery, gold watches and chains, shawls, fascinators, etc. Mrs. Jas. Sine commentor, gave the history of each model, sometimes proving very humorous especially the old-time swimming outfit.

Mr. Evans favoured with two lovely oldtime solos. The impressive memorial service was capably carried out by Mrs. (Rev.) Neelands and Mrs. John Chisolm, with Mrs. A. Seeley singing an appropriate solo. Mrs. White gave a humorous reading, "Roller Skating." Mrs. Sam Nicholson, Past District President and faithful worker in the W.I., gave a detailed account of the activities of the past 50 years, while the Presidents and Secretaries names were read for the corresponding years.

The guest speaker, Mrs. R. G. Purrell, gave a most comprehensive and impressive address on "Women and their Work in the World," referring to several individual women from the 23 countries whom she met at the A.C. W.W. Conference at Copenhagen last year.

"Auld Lang Syne" and "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," brought this never to be forgotten anniversary to a close with credit to those who took part and planned the evening.

What Others Say!

TURNOVER TAX WOULD BE HEAVY BLOW TO FARMERS

(Tweed News)

If the federal government goes ahead with the proposal to amend the British North America Act to allow the provinces to levy indirect taxes, hardest hit Canadians would be the farmer and the housewife.

The so-called Turnover Tax would be on everything sold at retail. Merchants say a three per cent hidden sales tax might mean that prices would rise four to 4½ per cent.

Everyone would suffer, but the farmer would be hit more than once.

First, a farmer is a business operator. But, unlike most business operators, he must buy all his materials and equipment at retail . . . implements, seed, stock, fertilizer. A Turnover Tax on these would boost his production costs.

Second, a Turnover Tax boosting prices of farm produce sold in retail stores would create buyer resistance and likely a consumer demand for reduction in returns to farmers.

Third, since farmers live long distances from manufacturing or processing centres, they would have to pay the Turnover Tax on both the original price of goods and the transporation costs to the centres near which they live.

Fourth, if a farmer sold any of his produce direct to consumers, he would have to turn tax collector.

Fifth, while many city workers would recover part of the cost of living rise by reason of cost of living bonuses,the farmer would watch his production costs and cost of living rise while his "wages" remained the same.

Sixth, in large centres keen retail competition would tend to keep price boosts created by the Turnover Tax at the lowest possible point, but in rural centres, where competition is lacking, merchants would, justifiably, try to recover ALL the tax. The farmer would be the goat again.

Most unfair thing about Turnover Tax is that it is paid on what is spent for consumer goods. It is not based on ability to pay.

EQUAL PAY FOR WHAT?

It is easy for the law to say that this man and woman must have equal pay because they are doing the same work. It is not so easy to determine whether their work is of equal value.

Even at what are considered women's jobs, an employer might find it profitable to have a few men working among the women because occasions arise when a man's strength or a man's resourcefulness is needed to keep things going.

As most women figure on getting married some day, they are not looked on as permanent employees to the same extent as men are. Employers therefore don't value them as highly as they do men.

When employment is scarce and men and women are competing for the same jobs, if the law requires that the same wage be paid whether a man or a woman be hired, which will the employer take?

There is grave danger that this new law, requiring equal pay for so-called equal work, might result in keeping many women unempolyed. — The Rural Scene.

DO WE GET FULL VALUE?

(Financial Post)

Staggered by the increase in school costs, members of the city council of Weyburn, Sask., decided to make a personal investigation of their collegiate to see where the money had gone. They soon found out.

A new wing had been lavishly equipped with electric cook stoves, batteries of power tools, sewing machines and sinks, rugs, curtains, chesterfields and other expensive accessories.

They also found that this costly exuberance did not entirely originate with their own school board. All over the country the trend was the same, and it was backed enthusiastically by provincial higher ups.

"A few years ago," quips the Weyburn Review, "kids walked three miles to school and enjoyed the exercise; now these is a $5,000 school van to take the pupils to schools and a $30,000 gymnasium to provide them with exercise."

Swimming pools, rugs, chesterfields and batteries of power tools may be all very well if we can afford them and if such equipment is widely used. But the plain truth is that many municipalities cannot afford these costly trimmings and would make very little use of them any way.

Fifty years ago, or even 25, there was very little of this sort of thing even in the fanciest of big city high schools and none at all in the towns and villages. Buildings were small and plain but so were the local tax bills. Yet the students who graduated from these schools were certainly as well educated as those we are turning out today. And they probably knew just as much about sewing, cooking and carpentry, because they were taught these things at home, by their parents and at no expense to the taxpayer. They learned to swim, too, but in some creek or near-by pond, which today is too often polluted with sewage or turned into the town dump. There will be wide agreement for this blunt statement of the Weyburn Review:

"This tendency to crowd school life with domestic or practical training cannot but take away from the time for studies devoted to the elementary principles of school life. It is questionable whether it is of real benefit to the pupils themselves.

"It frequently comes to our notice that young people seeking jobs have not the proper knowledge of the fundamentals which are much more important than learning how to entertain in finely-appointed drawing rooms or handling modern appliances. We have youths coming into our own office who cannot spell even commonplace words and do not have the foggiest notion where to place a comma or an apostrophe.

"All the things that students are taught these days may be very fine, but it is very doubtful whether they should be taught them at the expense of the tax-payer."

It's about time we sat back and took a good hard look at the business side of education. Costs have doubled and tripled in the last 20 years and they will certainly double and triple again in the next 20 years unless we decide definitely that there is a limit. It is true that most of our schools and equipment are far better than those of a generation ago but it is doubtful indeed whether there has been a similar improvement in the amount of real education our young people receive.

CHeese Sold Under Cost Geo. S. White Tells Commons

The $65 million payment to Western wheat farmers was described in the House of Commons last week as a "well-organized raid on the Federal treasury, led and organized by the Minister of Agriculture."

Speaking in the budget debate G. S. White, Progressive Conservative member for Hastings-Peterborough, said the payment could only be regarded in this light unless some compensation was also made to Eastern farmers, and it was doubtful if any such payment would be made.

Farmers of Eastern Ontario and Quebec would certainly have to pay their share of the $65 million, said Mr. White. Yet during the same period for which the Western farmers were receiving payment the Eastern producers' products were being shipped to Britain at much lower prices than prevailed in the United States. The cheese and bacon of Eastern Ontario and Quebec were requisitioned and confiscated, he said, and the producer had absolutely nothing to say in the matter.

Same Obligation

"If there is an obligation, even only morally, to pay the Western wheat producers there is exactly the same moral obligation to make up to the producers of Eastern Ontario and Quebec the losses they sustained on their products."

According to the 1947 Ontario Royal Commission on milk it cost at that time $2.69 to produce 100 pounds of milk. Mr. White said. If that was the cost then, certainly it was a great deal more in 1951. Yet in 1950 the milk producer was receiving only about $2. Since 1941 over 150 cheese factories in Ontario had closed. In his own district there were three which were not opening this year, Mr. White said.

"Surely as a defence measure for the future at least the remaining cheese factories should be kept in operation," he said.

Only Sideline

Today, he said, the average dairy farmer, apart from the one who produces whole milk for large communities, simply means a farmer who keeps cows as a sideline. Dairymen in Eastern Ontario and Quebec have been kept in business by a thriving export business for dairy cattle and the high prices paid for any kind of animal that could be used for meat.

At Very Core

The use of substitutes for milk and cream, he said, struck at the very core of the dairy industry, not just butter but every other product that was made from milk. Already a filled product was replacing thick cream in Toronto, the chief ingredients of which were imported.

"The uses to which this imported filling can be put are practically endless," he said. "Certainly it could be used in cheese and probably will be in the future is something is not done to assist this industry." — Ottawa-Valley Farm Journal.

Re Unsatisfied Judgment Fund

In more and more cases where a plaintiff sues for damages in a motor vehicle accident, claims are being made against the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund. It should be borne in mind that where a judgment is obtained by default, the plaintiff cannot proceed against the Fund unless the Minister of Highways has been notified of such default and has been given an opportunity to take such action as he may deem advisable.

It is important that claimants wishing to proceed against the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund be warned against taking judgment by default without first notifying the Minister of Highways.

Ward's Cleaning Plant

THE MIXING BOWL

BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! From either the rich market garden lands or the asparagus bed beside the garage comes our first taste of spring. These slender stalks preface warm spring and the promise of another summer. Asparagus leads the succession of our abundant green-growing things. Meantime the novelty of our fresh home-grown vegetable may pall a bit if you do not always use the same precaution in cooking just until tender with the stalks standing in a glass coffee percolator or the top of a double boiler. For asparagus cuttings add the tips about 15 minutes after boiling has started. Cook another 10 minutes.

There is a variety of sauces to serve on asparagus in place of our favorite, Melter Butter. Some folks prefer Hollandaise which is easy to make if you remember one point: Do not allow the hot water in the lower part of the double boiler to boil as you mix and cook the ingredients. Both overheating and overcoooking tend to cause the mixture to separate.

ASPARAGUS DISHES

1. Casserole: Alternate layers of cooked asparagus, medium-thick, white sauce seasoned with celery salt, and sliced, hard-cooked eggs in casserole until dish in full. Top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until bubbly.
2. Supper Dish: Arrange layers of cooked asparagus and sliced, hard cooked eggs in casserole. Cover with a can of undiluted mushroom soup mixed with a little prepared mustard. Top with crushed cornflakes mixed with grated cheese. Bake until heated through and cheese is melted.
3. Omlet: Lift the fold of a big omlet (ready for the table) and pour in a filling of well-seasoned creamed asparagus.
4. Main Course: A standard, unsweetened, well-seasoned custard mixture is also an excellent background for asparagus. To the mixture add seasonings such as chopped cress, nutmeg, onion and even a little grated lemon rind. Bake in a ring mold, turn out on platter and fill centre with chopped cooked meat.
5. Asparagus Fondue: To a 3 cup mixture of fine dry bread crumbs and milk stir in a beaten egg yolk and fold in a beaten egg white. Add cut-up cooked asparagus and pour in a loaf pan or custard cups as a Fondue. Bake in a moderate electric oven. Serve with a cheese sauce or chopped cress.
6. Asparagus on Toast: Place hot cooked asparagus on buttered toast and pour over a cheese sauce or egg sauce.
7. Asparagus Soup: When you cook asparagus cuttings add parsely, celery leaves and a slice of onion. Strain off the liquid.
8. Asparagus Salad: Make a lemon gelatine base. Fold in whipped cream and mayonnaise as the jelly begins to stiffen. Place asparagus cuttings in the bottom of a mould and pour in the partially jellied mix.
9. Asparagus-Chicken Dish: Combine cooked asparagus, sliced stuffed olive, hard-boiled eggs and diced chicken in a plain cream sauce. Serve on split tea biscuits.
10. Sandwich Fillings: Cook peas and cut-up asparagus together and put through colander. Season to taste and stir in beaten egg. Heat to cook egg then cool as a buttered roll or bread spread.
11. Leftover Asparagus: Top chilled asparagus with mayonnaise which has been mixed with flaked salmon chopped sweet pickle and minced hard-cooked egg. Surround with marinated tossed salad greens.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. R. K. asks: Are there different varieties of asparagus, and how do you freeze the best one for this purpose?

Answer: The common variety in Ontario, is the Mary or Martha Washington which is excellent to freeze. Select young tender stalks with tightly closed tips. Break off the tough purplish white ends and discard. Wash thoroughly. Cut stalks in uniform lengths to fit containers. Scald about 1 quart at a time for 3 minutes. Cool in ice water 2 minutes. Drain and pack in boxes with dry salt or 2 per cent brine. Exclude air and seal. Label and freeze.

Five-Cent Hike In Butter Floor Price

A five-cent-a-pound hike in the floor price for butter — to 58 cents from 53 — was announced in the Commons Friday by Agricultural Minister Gardner.

At the same time, in a move to stabilize butter prices, he announcd that the new support price will be in effect for two years, instead of one year as previously.

And in a further move to keep prices from climbing too high, he said the government has authorized the Dairy Products Board to buy butter from other commonwealth countries if, in the winter months, Canadian supplies run short.

Mr. Gardiner also announced that cheddar cheese will be supported at 28 cents a pound for another year. This is the same support price for cheese as in 1950.

The support price means that the government will buy butter at 58 cents a pound during the summer months of heavy production if the manufacturer finds the price falling below that point on the open market. Later, when supplies run short, the government sells its stock back to the trade.

Bata Opens New Store in Stratford

With the opening of the Kent Shoe Store in Stratford, Ontario, another milestone in the history of the parent organization, Bata Shoe Company of Canada, was reached.

The new store in Stratford was modeled after the store recently opened in St. Catharines and is the very latest in design. Several ultra modern ideas were added to the St. Catharines plan for the stor in Stratford.

Red Cross To Collect Whole Blood

Prime Minister Leslie M. Frost has endorsed the Canadian Red Cross Society's programme of collecting whole blood for the armed forces and stockpiling plasma for civil defence. Writing to the Ontario Division Mr. Frost says "I congratulate the Red Cross on the great work they are doing in their new programme of collecting blood for the armed forces. I shall be glad indeed to lend every assistance in my power to this worthy cause."

The campaign to enroll donors in Ontario closes this week. An estimated 10,000 persons have signed up to donate blood, and mobile teams will begin next month to collect it.

New Canadian Turns Out Swiss Cheese

Are you one of those people who believe that the holes in swiss cheese are made by gremlins?

You could be right. It even has Canadian cheese makers baffled. But Walter Joss, of Highway 30, north of Campbellford, knows differently. He holds the secret of the bacterial action that causes the holes to form.

Since Mr. Joss purchased the Woodland Factory last November, he has been turning out about five swiss cheese moulds every day, including Sundays. His cooling and curing rooms are stacked with them and each day's production can be seen in the presses and the previous day's in the brine vat. There is also more to be seen. He is experimenting with the production of various European types of cheese — Italian (gorgonzola), Dutch (edam), Danish (blue) and French (roquefort). These he calls the soft cheeses. The semi-hards, Dutch goudas and the brick varieties, are already being produced in limited quantities.

Experts Say No

Had Mr. Joss listened to Canadian "experts," swiss cheese would not be in production now. They told him that it could not be made from Canadian milk. Coming from generations of cheese makers in his native Switzerland, Walter Joss knew better than that. He also had the courage to go ahead with production and years of experience to draw from.

Cheese making in his home land, he says, is a very specialized craft. It requires five years of apprenticeship, three more with a master cheese maker and a long stiff course at the national dairy school before a man can receive a certificate.

At Mr. Joss' home at Willisau, near Lucerne, his family operates two small factories that produce about 100 tons of soft and cottage cheeses each year. High production costs and small net revenue after the Second World War forced him to look to the Americas. He considered Argentine, Brazil and Mexico before deciding to come to Canada in 1949. He was then manager of the family factories.

Made Cheese At Stouffville

Swiss immigrants are not affected by the frozen currency block that is imposed on other European nationals and Mr. Joss flew to Canada to look over business opportunities. His first venture, about 15 months, was making cheese at a small dairy farm near Stouffville. His wife Marguerite and children Rosemary, 6, Rudy 5 and Erik 3½ years, joined Mr. Joss in three months.

Still determined to apply his considerable knowledge of fancy cheese making — he is only 31 years old now — Mr. Joss interviewed officials at the DeLaval Company in Peterborough for factory locations. He bought the Woodland plant last fall.

He knew of another Swiss chap, also a cheese maker, who had preceeded him to Canada, and with the assistance of the Swiss Consul and advertisements in newspapers located Joseph Liengg. Joe was mining at Port Radium on Great Bear Lake and was glad of a chance to leave the lonely camp life of the sub-Arctic to join his friend in southern Ontario.

Right Hand Man

You will see Joe there days as the right-hand man at the Woodland Factory and will understand how his mining junket fits him so admirably to tossing around the 150-pound cheese on the high curing room shelves.

With the sudden increase of milk supplies in a few weeks time, Mr. Joss expects to be handling and processing about 20,000 pounds of milk each day, too much work for a two-man crew. As it is, he and Joe work from 5.30 a.m. until about 9 p.m. Half this working time on Sundays gives them their only rest period.

Three new cheese makers are expected to arrive at Woodland within a few weeks, Mr. Joss' younger brother, another Swiss and a German.

Before leaving the factory, the reporter was asked to have some coffee with the family. There was not only coffee but a large platter of mixed cheese, crackers, both sweetened and unsweetened, whipped cream in bowls, and biscuits. Mrs. Joss apologized for not being able to serve some yogurt, as well, a food which they make for their own use very day and of which they are very fond.

Is yogurt a health fad, or what?

Not to the Joss family. They said they preferred it to ice cream and if all went well, it may be included in their production programme.

Just a very small helping for me, thank you. —Peterborough Examiner.

Saints Turn Sinners

Adequate protection for the dairy industry from the threat of imported vegetable oils is listed as the first objective of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

In the days when manufacturers were the protectionists and farmers the staunch free traders in Canada, the protectionist slogan was: "Duty-free raw materials for our manufacturing industries, and adequate protection for our manufactured goods."

But since farmers have become protectionists they are going a step further and demanding adequate protection on raw materials to discourage the manufacture in Canada of anything that might come into competition with Canadian butter.

Surely when saints turn sinners they go the limit. —The Rural Scene.

Income Sources

In 1948 the three principal sources of Canadians' income were manufacturing, agriculture and retail trade; manufacturing provided 30.7 per cent of the national income, agriculture 14.2 per cent, and retail trade 10.2 per cent —Quick Canadian Facts.

"S.O.S." has no literal meaning, but was chosen as a distress signal because of its ease in transmitting.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

TIPS ON GROWING 'MUMS IN GARDENS

Chrysanthemums, fast growing in popularity, have been contributing bursts of gorgeous colour to Canadian gardens in the past few years. With this in mind, a few suggestions to gardeners with 'mums are provided by R. W. Oliver, of the Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Gardeners starting without plants must procure small rooted plants from a commercial nursery late in May. Seed sowing, says Mr. Oliver, is not satisfactory. Here are the varieties that have proved most satisfactory in Ottawa:

White — Avalanche, Dorothy Howard, Sept. Cloud, White Cushion.

Yellow — Algonquin, Eugena A Wonder, Sept. Gold, Yellow Cushion.

Bronze — Bronze Cushion, Sept. Bronze, Spitfire, Karen Frederickson.

Maroon — Dutchess of Edinborough,

Maroon — Duchess of Edinborough, wood.

Pink — Clara Curtis, Pink Cushion, Rose Glow.

Lavender-Purple — Chippewa, Lavender Lady, Matawin, Purple Star.

Where there are still some old 'mum clumps in the ground and only a few plants are required, dig up a few of the clumps in the spring when new growth is an inch or so tall. Cut these new rooted shoots away from the old wood centres and set the young plants in flowering position.

When the new shoots are three to four inches in height, cuttings of the terminal growth are taken one and one-half to two inches long, leaving some of the basal growth from which a second crop of cuttings will develop in a few weeks.

The cuttings should be planted in sharp sand and stood in north light or screened with a double thickness of cheesecloth against bright sunshine. Moisture is important. The most satisfactory arrangement is to fill large six to eight inch flower pots with sand and stand them in a shallow pan of water so that a constant water level is maintained four to five inches below the surface of the sand. If cheesecloth shade is used this should be lightly syringed three or four times a day to create humidity. Cuttings should be rooted in two to three weeks and should be placed in good garden soil in two and one-half inch pots. They should be planted outside about May 24th.

To have bushy plants the growing tip should be pinched off when the young plant is three or four inches tall. Another pinch will probably be given about two weeks after they have been planted outside but no pinching should be done after July first. Cushion varieties do not need to be pinched.

The plants need to be kept growing by liberal supply of water and clean cultivation. Staking will be needed for taller varieties exposed to wind.

To control the tarnished plant bug a DDT flower spray or rotenone powder should be used before the buds show colour. Constant watch will need to be kept for green aphis which are best controlled by spraying with "Black Leaf 40" according to the manufacturer's direction.

MATURITY OF CORN NOT DELAYED BY NITROGEN

Fertilizer high in nitrogen used as a side-dressing on the corn crop when the plants are about eighteen inches high has been gaining favour with farmers of southwestern Ontario during the past few years. Besides giving a remarkable increase in yield on soils which are low in nitrogen, this fertilizer causes the leaves of the corn to remain dark green in colour throughout the summer and late in the fall.

This retention of the corn during summer and fall has often created the impression that the maturity of the crop has ben delayed by nitrogen fertilizer. Careful experiments at the Dominion Experimental Substation, Woodslee, Ontario, have shown that this is not the case. J. W. Aylesworth, the Officer in charge, says that during 1949 and 1950 sidedressing the corn crop with rates as 400 pounds per acre of ammonium nitrate had no effect on the amount of moisture in the grain at harvest time as compared with plots where no fertilizer was applied.

Certain farmers in the district have reported that the maturity of the corn was hastened by the application of a nitrogen fertilizer. This might be expected under adverse soil and weather conditions where lack of available nitrogen would delay the normal development of the plant.

SUITABLE SHRUBS FOR HEDGES AND FENCES

Wire and wooden fences are being replaced in many places by fences that live — barriers, ranging in size from the tiny suburban hedge to the extensive farm fence, grown of suitable shrubs and bushes. The horticultural spotlight has recently been turned on the multiflora rose, a Japanese parent of the familiar climbing rose, which grows profusely and guards properly with thick, strong thorns. This publicity for the multiflora rose originated in the United States where the federal Department of Agriculture started using it as a field shelterbelt and the cry was taken up by garden and agricultural publications.

Only in warmer parts of Canada will this bush thrive; it cannot stand the Canadian winter and kills back to the snow line. Cutting out the deadwood each spring is a thorny job that would repulse even Brer Rabbit.

Canadians living in southern Nova Scotia, along the St. Lawrence River, lakes Ontario and Erie or in southern British Columbia might try the multiflora rose if they can find someone to trim the vigorous thorns. Others would be wise, according to R. W. Oliver of the horticulture division of the Central Experimenteal Farm at Ottawa, to use native hawthorns or honey locust on the farms of the east or the Manchurian strain of the Chinese elm, or the alpine currant on city properties. The experimental station at Morden, Manitoba, suggests, for the prairies, Turkestan rose, Altai rose, Fireberry hawthorne or spiny Caragana.

RANGE SHELTERS

For those who do not wish to make the heavier investment involved in the construction of a more permanent type of rearing house, the use of range shelters offers a very satisfactory solution for the raising of cokerels and growing pullets, says B. F. Tinney of the Experimental Station at Charlottetown, P.E.I.

They can be used to advantage in handling fattening stock and are particularly useful as temporary autumn quarters for stock that has just finished its pullet-year of laying.

Almost always, in late summer or early autumn, there is a period when yearling stock has completed laying — when quarters must be cleaned and disinfected for the new pullets being brought in from range.

Space, as well as time, is always at a premium at this season of the year. With several range shelters available the yearlings can be removed to a nice piece of clover range where they can enjoy a rest and conditioning period prior to being culled and selected for the mating pens.

Range shelters offer an opportunity to expand the brooder house capacity of many small producers.

Commonly only one, or at most two, small brooder houses are in use on the average farm. These are used for rearing as well as for brooding. If filled to capacity for the brooding season they are hopelessly overcrowded later in the season. If only sufficient birds are brooded to permit carrying through to maturity the houses are not utilized to full capacity in early season. Range shelters offer a solution to this problem.

A single 10 x 12 brooder house with heater will rear three or four times as many chicks as it will house in the autumn. As rapidly as they become crowded, move them to cheap range shelters, thus saving the cost of additional expensive brooders and stoves.

Excellent detailed plans for shelters are available from the Superintendent, Experimental Station, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

DAIRY PRODUCTS MAKE Your FOOD DOLLARS GO FARTHER

Every housewife these days is fighting the "battle of the home budget". She is quite aware that food costs have soared, and was not surprised when the Cost of Living Index at March 1st. last showed food at 244.4 compared with 100 for the base period of 1935-39.

The Dairy Farmers of Canada, faced with rising costs like everyone else, are pleased to draw attention to the fact that Dairy Products in the same index stood at 200.1 while other foods in the index were 247.5.

The price of Dairy Products is not at all out of line with other items in the Cost of Living Index, nor with wages in industry. While milk, butter and cheese stand at 200.1, clothing stands at 196.6 and home furnishings at 199.3. Wages based on hourly rates of pay in Canada stood at 226.8 as of Dec. 1, 1950, according to Department of Labour Statistics.

By using more of Nature's Fine Foods—Dairy Foods—the housewife can serve wholesome, nutritious meals and make her food dollar go farther.

Cost of Farm Restricts Junior's Hopes

Increasing costs of farms and their equipment are tending to crimp rural youth's hopes of eventual ownership.

Changing potentials are discussed in the monthly letter of the Northeast Farm Foundation (US), and generally applying to difficulties of acquiring sufficient capital in this country.

"Forty years ago a fairly good farm in central New York could be bought for from $3,500 to $5,000. The necessary stock and tools involved perhaps $1,000 to $2,000 more. A young man could hope to become the owner of such a business in the course of a dozen or fifteen years.

"Today, in the same communities, it requires $10,000 to $20,000 to buy a fairly good farm, depending on location, buildings and so on. Now, to buy a tractor, big plows, tillage machinery, power mower, rake and hay baller,, harvesting machinery, milk or poultry equipment, truck, auto and so on, requires $7,000 to $15,000 more, depending on how new the things are and how big.

"And as for livestock — a good holstein cow will bring $400 quickly enough. To acquire a herd of a dozen such cows runs into a figure of $4,000 to $5,000.

"What is means is that the young man today who casts wishful eyes at a farm enterprise is faced with the problem of getting or commanding the use of some $20,000 to $30,000 of capital. This he can no longer hope to accumulate out of hired man or tenant earnings. In most cases he can hardly hope to accumulate it at all — period."

This change of prospect is likely to sharpen the sense of family ownership of farms and the awareness of elders of its importance to their sons who have ambitions of continuing in farm life and work. It should be a problem of possible means by which rural occupation may be kept within the range of interested youth.

A junior committee might be assigned a project of ascertaining the probable costs today of securing in this province the "fairly good farm" cited in the Foundation's comparison.

Pasture Investigations On Illustration Stations

The need for productive pastures in the livestock areas of Eastern Canada and British Columbia needs no emphasis. Studies of fertilizer formulae and practices in relation to the improvement of permanent pastures have been conducted on Illustration Stations of the Experimental Farm Service in the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia since 1932.

In 494 yield records obtained in a study of fertilizer formulae conducted since 1944 the effect of (a) 1000 lb. 0-12-0 applied once every three years; (b) 1000 lb. 0-12-6 applied once every three years; (c) 1000 lb. 0-12-6 applied once every three years; plus 100 lb. ammonium sulphate applied annually, were compared. In general, says R. R. Cairns of the Illustration Station, the plot receiving 0-12-6 once every three years plus the nitrogen application each spring, has given the highest yield of 9.66 tons of green herbage per acre. The plot treated with 0-12-6 only has yielded 8.75 tons per acre, while the plot treated with 0-12-0 (superphosphate) has produced 8.21 tons per acre. During the same period the unfertilized plots have given an average yield of 5.38 tons of green herbage per acre.

In the study of fertilizer practices no advantage has been shown from applying the same quantity of phosphorus and potash in small annual applications rather than in a large application made once every three years. The application of 1000 lb. of 0-12-6 annually has increased the yield of green herbage b yonly 1.22 tons per acre over a 1000 lb. application of 0-12-6 every three years. In both these cases the plots received as well 100 lb. ammonium sulphate annually.

Clovers have been increased 100 per cent through fertilization. The stand of clovers on the untreated check plots was, on the average, 20 per cent of the total herbage. Phosphorus (superphosphate) has given the most general increase. In certain locations nitrogen and potash have made substantial yield contributions. In all of the 494 yield records obtained decided yield increase has occurred as a result of fertilization.

Cheese Price Set By 5-Man Group

Ontario and Quebec cheese buyers will choose a five-man negotiating committee to meet with Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board and set a price for domestic cheese, it was decided Monday.

Representatives of buyers met with the marketing board and adjourned until May 9th after deciding to name the committee. Three committee members will be from Ontario and two from Quebec.

This system of arriving at a cheese price is new, but producers indicated they feel it will work to their advantage as well as the buyers.

In addition to the domestic market, Ontario producers have arranged for export sales to the United Kingdom. The British Ministry of Food will meet soon with Quebec buyers to arrange purchase of any surplus from that province.

Price of cheese for export, believed to be about 30 cents a pound, will be announced after the domestic price has been set, producers' representatives said.

Cream Producers Not Satisfied With Butter Floor Price

The Federal Government has established the floor price of butter at 58c a pound for the next two years. Mr. Davis, Dobbinton, Chairman of the Ontario Cream Producers' Marketing Board, has this to say:

"The Cream Producers of Ontario have been particularly disappointed by Friday's announcement by the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, that the Government have established the 1952-1953 floor price at 58c a pound for butter.

"Inadequate returns during 1950 have left Ontario cream producers discouraged. Faced with lack of help, prevailing high costs of feed, material and implements, ,our members are daily turning to more profitable Agricultural enterprise. Already dairy herds have been reduced or completely liquidated in alarming numbers. Not only has our government shown utter disregard for the strangulation of a vital industry, that will adversely affect both consumers and producers, but it has pulled the noose tighter by threatening to import cheap butter.

"We believe that a floor price of at least 62c for butter would have given the producer the necessary encouragement to continue producing sufficient butter and other dairy products, and would have guaranteeed consumers their supplies at reasonable and stable prices.

"No industry can stay in business without at least cost of production plus a fair margin of profit. The Dairy Industry is a vital factor in keeping up fertility of the soil, and this must be done if our increasing population are to be fed."

Tenders Called For The Painting of Village Bridges and Other Property

Lengthy Session of Village Council — Contract Let For Painting of Parking Lanes

Tenders will be called for painting the Centre Bridge, Henry St. Bridge, Band Stand and Fire Hall according to a decision by the Village Council which met in regular session Monday night. Reeve H. J. Wells presided and all members of the Council were present. The specifications for the painting were left in the hands of the Property Committee.

Clerk Mallory tabled a communication from the Town of Goderich asking Stirling Council to concur in a resolution re an amendment to the Assessment Act which would delete the business assessment of a municipality in computing the County Tax.

By resolution Stirling Council favoured the amendment and the Clerk was instructed to forward Hon. G. Dunbar, Minister of Municipal Affairs, a copy of the said resolution.

Communications were also tabled from the Ontario Department of Highways, asking for a report on road expenditures for the first quarter of 1951 by May 10th, and a monthly report thereafter throughout the year; also inquiring as to the population of the village.

Requisition From High School Area

The requisition from the Centre Hastings High School Area for $2841.75 or 7½ mills on the equalized assessment for the village, was also tabled by the Clerk.

The Ontario Department of Highways gave approval (by letter) of the expenditure of $7,000 on the village streets during 1951, providing such expenditures were in accordance with Departmental regulations.

A revised plan of the sub-division comprising the Wartime Housing Project on the Marmora Road from the Ontario Planning Board was presented to Council for its approval. Following a somewhat lengthy discussion the Clerk was instructed to advise the Ontario Planning Board that Council was withholding approval of the plan until such time as the sewage disposal plant was satisfactory to the local Medical Officer of Health. Dr. E. A. Carleton, M.O.H., advised Council that the present sewage disposal bed would have to be relaid.

C. B. Rollins addressed Council relative to sale of gravel, and J. V. Holt, representative of Roofers' Supply Co., re purchase of culverts, etc. The purchase of 64 ft. of 12" piping was authorized.

Pigs In Village Public Health Nuisance

Dr. Carleton, M.O.H., reported to Council that complaints were being received by him relative to pigs being kept in an unsanitary condition within the limits of the village,, creating a public health nuisance. There was no known local bylaw controlling the keeping of pigs in the municipality, and until such a bylaw was passed he could'nt do anything to combat the nuisance. He had investigated the complaints and found ample justification for the same.

Members of Council expressed themselves as reluctant to deprive anyone of the privilege of raising their own meat supply, but were agreed that the keeping of livestock within the village limits should be regulated. A resolution was accepted that a Bylaw re Keeping Livestock be passed and the customary notice of motion that such bylaw would be introduced at the next regular meeting of Council was given.

To Paint Parking Lines

The job of painting the parking lines on the streets in the business section was given to Maurice Bell at a price of $90.00 on motion of Councillors Elliott and West.

On motion of Councillors Montgomery and West the purchase of a suitable flag for the Community Building was left in the hands of the Property Committee.

The need of a sidewalk from St. John's Church to at least the railway crossing on the Marmora Road was emphasized by Councillor Elliott and the matter will be considered by Council when the annual inspection of walks and streets is made in the near future.

Request For Rearrangement of School Area

On resolution of Councillors Elliott and Rodgers, Stirling Village Council will request Hastings County Council to arrange a High School Area to include Rawdon and Sidney Townships and Frankford and Stirling Villages.

A lengthy discussion ensued on the parking regulations in the village, but no definite decision was reached.

The following accounts were passed for payment:

C. B. Rollins, $65.00; G. B. Faulkner, $80.00; F. A. MacFadden, quarter of 1951 salary, $100.00; Thos. A. Spry, $30.85; C. B. District President Visits Stirling Women's Institute

The May meeting of the Stirling W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Carleton Wright with a good attendance of members and visitors. The President, Mrs. P. Bronson, presided and opened the meeting mith the Institute Ode, followed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Roll Call was answered by "My nicest thoughts of mother." The Auditor's Report showed well over $400.00 taken in during the past year, with a balance on hand of $157.59. Mrs. West read a list of worthy causes as to where the money was spent.

Mrs. Bronson welcomed the District President, Mrs. Roy Bush, to the meeting and asked her to install the officers for the coming year. "O Canada" was sung and the Installation Ceremony as found in the hand book was followed by Mrs. Bush.

Mrs. Bush spoke briefly on a number of subjects and of the coming District meeting.

The President thanked Mrs. Bush for her kind assistance and carried on with the meeting. A motion was made to have executive meetings before the regular meeting days when it was thought necessary.

Mrs. J. Morrison gave the topic, "Household Conveniences On The Farm." Readings were given by Mrs. A. Lake and Mrs. L. Rodgers. Mrs. Foster put on a dress-maker's contest, which was much enjoyed. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and a social hour was spent with Mrs. Wright and the committee serving a dainty lunch.

Mrs. Bronson graciously thanked Mrs. Wright for opening her home for the meeting and all those who took part in making the evening a success.

Induction Service At St. John's

Ven. N. R. Stout, Archdeacon of Frontenac, Will Be The Special Speaker

The Induction of the Rev. H. C. Secker, as Rector of the Parish of Stirling, Frankford and Glen Miller, will take place on Wednesday, May 16th, at 8 p.m. in St. John's Church, Stirling.

Owing to the illness of the Archbishop, the Ven. F. A. Smith, Archdeacon of Ontario, and Rector of St. Thomas' Church, Belleville, will conduct the service, assisted by the Clergy of the Deanery. The Ven. N. R. Stout, Archdeacon of Frontenac, and Rector of Gananoque, will be the special preacher. Mr. Stout is well-known to the residents of this district, as he was born near the village and attended school here. As a Stirling "old boy" many will wish to hear him and meet him.

Mr. Secker came to Stirling on March 1st from Adolphustown, which was the landing place of the United Empire Loyalists in 1787. This month marks the 20th Anniversary of his Ordination as Deacon, by the late Archbishop Seager. For a short time he was Curate to the Vicar of St. Thomas' Belleville, when Archbishop Lyons held that position. The work at Cannifton, Huff's Island and Herchimer Avenue was under his charge. For three years Mr. Secker was curate in Toronto, at St. George's Church, John St., and St. Mark's, West Toronto.

He was one of the first Priests to be Ordained by Archbishop Lyons, when he was consecrated Bishop of Ontario.

Returning to the Diocese he held incombrencies at Lombardy, Amherst Island, Westport, and for the last seven years at Adolphustown.

Interested in Young People's work, Mr. Secker was for two years Chaplain of the Diocesan A.Y.P.A. Council, is now Convenor of Leadership Training, and Archbishop's representative on the Provincial Council. He has lately been elected to the Diocesan Social Service Committee.

Following the Induction Service a social hour will be enjoyed in the Parish Hall, to which the congregations of the Parish and friends will be welcomed.

Some Nice Trout

Fishing a creek in the Grafton area over the week-end a local trio, A Abernethy, Doug Patterson and Bob Cooke, landed a nice string of rainbow trout. The former topped the day's catch with a 4-lb. beauty, measuring 23½ inches in length, while Doug was a close second with a 21-inch specimen weighing 3 lbs.

Attend Annual W.A. Meeting

Mrs. H. Rodgers, delegate from St. John's W.A. and Mrs. E. Kent, Diocesan Secretary, attended the W.A. Annual meeting on Wednesday in St. Peter's Church, Brockville. Others attending were Rev. H. C. Secker, Mrs. H. Cooke, Mrs. E. Cooke and Mrs. S. McMurray.

THE REASON

A lot of people are late for church because they have to change attire; and a lot of others because they have to change a dollar.

"They"

Hardly a conversation lasting more than a few minutes in our town is complete without some reference to "they." "They" should do this, that or the other thing to improve the community

This is a situation that is by no means confined to our town. It is common throughout the province and nation.

Just who "they" are, we are not sure. We suspect, however, that governments — municipal, provincial or federal — are involved somehow.

By taking the attitude that "they" should be responsible for everything, we shuffle off any feeling that we, personally, are responsible in any way to see to it that things are accomplished.

In our town we hear such questions as: Why don't "they" bring more industries to town? Why don't "they" keep the streets clean? Why don't "they" do something about the cost of living, the housing situation, the roads, the appearance of the town? Why don't "they" build more sidewalks, provide better street lighting, develop sports among the young people, organize a drama society? The list could go on ad nauseum.

This "they" business, we believe, is symptomatic of the "leave it to George" attitude that is prevalent all over the country.

Isn't it about time we realized that instead of "they" we should say, "we" and then go ahead and get things done?

Nothing is impossible if "we" really want it and go after it. How? By thinking and planning and working together, by putting our best effort into any project we want carried out.

What our town and indeed all Canada needs is more "we" — a lot more — and less "they".

For A Beautiful Community

There is something stirring about spring in Canada, a sort of fever that gets into the blood of its people, an urge to be up and doing.

All of a sudden, simehow, the sunshine takes on a vivid brightness that is lacking in winter — a brightness that shows up with startling clarity the ugliness that has accumulated during the snow-bound months.

Piles of rubbish, litter on the streets, shabby buildings, gaping fences, untidy gardens, all seem to cry out for something to be done.

Homes, too, seem to need the application of good soap and water and elbow grease.

It is well then that the urge to do inspires our people at this season for there is much to be done.

Small towns in Canada during the past few years have improved remarkably in appearance, the result of growing community pride. But most of them have a long way to go before the term "beautiful" may be honestly applied to them.

What is a beautiful community?

One, we would say, which shows the results of care and hard work, where business places, homes, parks, streets, gardens, are maintained with pride and good taste. Where flowers and trees are tended with loving care. Where the people take so much harmoniously together to achieve that end.

How does our community measure up?

Are there shabby, broken down old buildings? Are streets strewn with papers and rubbish? Are lanes heaped high with refuse? Are boulevards allowed to grow rank with grass and weeds knee high? Is street lighting poor? Are business places down at the heels? Are lawns and gardens unkempt. Do homes and buildings need repair and paint?

If the answer is "yes" to even one of these questions, there is work to be done.

Beauty in our town can be achieved only by everyone working together to clean-up, paint-up, plant-up, fix-up, light-up, and mow-down. Such a campaign this spring is a wonderful way to develop not only an attractive community but also a wholesome community spirit.

Let's get busy, everyone of us, and make our town the most attractive small town in Canada. If we do that this spring, putting into the project our pride and hard work, in time we will be able to say that our town is truly beautiful.

And strangely enough, we will gain immeasurably from the satisfaction of achieving together what no one of us can bring about alone.

All Through Your Life

Did you ever stop to think that in all the world there is only one newspaper that is really concerned with you? And that is your hometown paper.

City dailies are only interested in you when you commit a crime, break your neck or do something spectacular or foolish.

But your hometown paper is interested in you all through your life. Over the years it tells the story of you.

The story begins, as good stories should, at the beginning. You are born and in the "birth notices' there is an announcement that your father and mother have been blessed with you.

Then Dad and Mom go away on a trip and take you with them. So your name appears in the social and personal column. The years pass and you go to school. Every so often your name appears in school results, sometimes at the top of your class, sometimes at the bottom, but always there.

You are on the hockey team or the ball team as you grow older and your name is mentioned many times. You golf, curl, go to summer camp with the reserves, take part in the music festival, act in a play — your name is in the paper.

Then comes the great moment of the early part of your life — high school graduation and your picture is published. You cut it out for your grandchildren to see. Then perhaps college and home for holidays; your name appears often. You graduate and your hometown paper is just as proud of you as your parents are.

You come home and go to work in dad's business or start one of your own. You meet the one and only girl and your engagement is announced in the paper. You are married and there is a detailed account of your wedding.

As the years roll on your hometown paper tells the story of your social life, your community achievements, the birth of your children, the honors that come to you. Finally at the end of your long and happy life you appear in the "obituary column."

Thus you and your hometown paper are closely connected. Without you there would be no community newspaper. Without your community newspaper there would be no published story of you.

All through your life your paper records your doings — the happy occasions in your life, your sorrowful ones, your achievements. Your hometown paper is your paper.

This is Muriel Millard, the French Canadian chanteuse who will be heard on the Rythmes de Paris show on the CBC Trans-Canada network for four weeks starting on Friday night, May 18th. In addition to her extensive radio experience, chiefly in Quebec, Miss Millard has also sung in television; she is one of the few Canadian singers who have been chosen to sing for American viewers, who saw her introduced as "the atom bombshell." Last year the Montreal magazine, Radio Monde, picked her as its 1951 radio queen. Rythmes de Paris, a newcomer to the English audience, has been heard on the CBC's French network for over a year and Miss Millard has been a frequent guest soloist. She has also been starring in a French network show of Latin American songs. The programme is heard regularly on Fridays at 9.00 p.m. — this week only, at 8.30 p.m.

Geo. Butcher Presents Pictures At Wellman's

On Friday, May 4th, a very enjoyable and profitable evening was spent at Wellman's Church when the Daisy Mission Band entertained and Mr. Geo. Butcher, of Stirling, presented slides on his Missionary work in Africa. A silver collection was taken at the door and a nice sum was realized.

Before the meeting came to order, Muriel Morton played several piano selections, then the leader of the Mission Band, Mrs. Burton Morton, called the large audience to order and all joined in singing "In Christ There Is No East or West." Psalm 33 was read alternately, after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

A very warm welcome was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Butcher and their young son. Mr. Butcher spoke briefly of his early life, his education and his arrival in Africa. The first half of his slides dealt with the children among whom he worked. Before the pictures of the women at work and other items of interest were shown, a short programme was presented. Bonna and Richard Dracup sang "Bringing In The Sheaves;" a boy's quartette, Harry Russett, Chas. Nix, Jimmy Chumbley and David Heagle, "Little Soldiers of Jesus;" a piano duet, "The Curly Head March," by Muriel and Mildred Morton; girls solo, "Lily Bell Ring," by Nancy Chumbley, Yvonne Kingy, and Marlene Haggerty. At the close of the pictures Carol Beckett, one of the youngest members of the Band, presented Mr. Butcher with a box of home-made candy.

Mr. Butcher graciously thanked the children for thenc made ,,BraETAET He spoke of the great joy it was to tell of his work for the Lord and he asked for their prayers when he resumed his work in the Fall.

The children sang "We Are A Mission Band," and all joined in singing the National Anthem, after which Mr. Butcher closed with prayer.

Mrs. Nix and the older boys and girls served cookies and a cup of tea to their guests and all enjoyed a social half hour.

Water Resources

One of the most northerly power dams in Canada is at Snare River, N.W.T. Operated by the Northwest Territories Power Commission, it serves the gold-mining area of Yellownife. Work has begun on a similar type of hydro development on the Mayo River, Y.T., to supply power for the Yukon's important Keno Hill silver-lead-zinc mining area.

Items of Interest St. Paul's-Carmel

(By Rev. A. E. Baker, U.E.)

Mother's Day

The focal interest of every christian whether his or her mother is living here or in the "Gloryland" will be found next Sunday in the observance of Mother's Day. Many wearing white flowers in cherished memory will attend church as a mark of respect to her, others will take her with them to church as a mark of loving devotion and tribute.

Thousands of telegrams, greeting cards and gifts from the homemade cards of the primary school pupils to the costly gifts from sons who have prospered in this world's goods will be delivered. Many mothers will be gladdened.

There will be also many who will be visited as age or infirmity precluded attendance at church. Such should be specially sought out and remembered. There will be many praying mothers with special petitions for their boys and girls, some away from home, some estranged from home influences, some in Korea, some on the high seas. May God answer the prayers of praying mothers.

At St. Paul's and Carmel an effort will be made to relate the day to ministries which will be remembered and bear fruit to God's glory in years to come.

An opportunity will be afforded all parents and guardians to dedicate their children to the Lord in Baptism. Please telephone the minister or clerk of session in order that the Baptismal Certificates may be prepared.

Mrs. Maisie Hunter Fowler, well-known soprano soloist of the Metropolitan and Erskine Churches, Toronto, will sing at the morning service. The choir will close the morning service at St. Paul's with Handel's majestic Hallelujah Chorus.

The evening service at St. Paul's will be marked by the "Album" presentation of four great sons. Their mothers will be represented by mothers of the U. R. Welcome Club for adults. Do not miss this opportunity to see and hear of General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army; Cecil G. Rhodes, Empire Builder after whom Rhodesia is named; Sir Christopher Wren, who was helped by "flame and fame," and Captain Robert Falcon Scott the first Britisher to reach the South Pole.

This remarkable service will include special music associated with mothers and their distinguished sons.

At the morning service Grade II United Church pupils of Miss Huffman's Class will recite the books of the Old Testament and in the afternoon the pupils of Glen Ross School, Mrs. Jack Bush teacher, will sing the story related to and naming therein the books of the Old Testament.

Death and Sickness

The love and sympathy of this Pastoral Charge are extended to Mrs. W. Fitchett and her dead ones bereaved by the death of husband and father. Mr. Fitchett was for many years an office bearer of St. Paul's, though inactive for sometime as a result of ill health; to Jared Hanna and relatives bereaved by the death of a devoted wife and mother. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hanna attended the River Valley Public School and were within six months of their golden wedding anniversary when Mrs. Hanna was called to "rest from her labours."

In the Carmel district death claimed the life of Sanford Anderson of the Town Line. Mr. Anderson had been in failing health for several years. He belonged to an old age and well-known family of the district.

Our prayer interest follows Mrs. Warren Preston, Mrs. H. Jones, Mrs. N. Wescott, Mrs. H. Potter, Ormel MacMullen and Richard Clements, who are undergoing trials of the flesh. May God grant to these and all unmentioned others and to those who serve them strength for every need.

Summer Schools

The Extension Depart. of Queen's University, announces a special course in dramatics including "Puppetry," by Mr. Geo. Merten, from July 26th to August 16th. This is a fine opportunity to enjoy a pleasant, profitable vacation in the historic limestone city.

The University of Western Ontario London, announces special Summer Schools from July 2nd to 14th including courses in art, archoeology (Indian), athletic coaching, play production and school of religion. The Forest City will well repay any who can participate in its Summer School

Senior Girl's Camp

The Christian Education Committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference announce a Senior Girl's Camp at Quin-Mo-Lac from July 7th to July 17th. The camp will be open to girls aged 14 who have completed Grade IX and girls 15 to 17 years of age, inclusive.

Camp Quin-Mo-Lac is on Moira Lake between Madoc and Belleville. It embraces 300 acres with a mile of lake shore. Cabins accomodate ten campers and are equipped with double deck bunks and mattresses. The dining room overlooks the lake and has a large fire place for blazing logs on cool nights. Bubbling springs provide excellent (tested) drinking water. Registration costs $3.00 and board $12.00. Applications should be sent to Miss Margaret Hillis, 159 William St., Belleville.

If you are fond of the out-of-doors, of wind-whispering tall trees, waves lapping with low sounds upon the shore.

If you like the tangy odor of a campfire and the mystery of a star-filled sky;

If you covet fine friendship, the chance to share laughter and silence and long thoughts;

If you would know more of the Christian way and of Him who is guide upon the way,

Then — come to camp.

Carmel Young Adults

Plans are well underway for the inaugural service of the Carmel Young Adult Association on Sunday, May 20th at 7.30 p.m. Youth groups, especially those representative of Agriculture life are expected in large numbers. Arrangements provide for the use of both the church and Silver Jubilee Hall. Rev. A. M. Laverty, B.A., D.D., Chaplain of Queen's University, will be the guest speaker.

Messrs. Charles and Archie Bailey have been assigned the posts of Field Marshalls and will have charge of the parking of all cars. The usual afternoon service at Carmel on May 20th will be withdrawn to enable everyone to participate in this grand gathering at night fall.

The Junior Farmer's Choir will sing and lead the ministry of praise. A special souvenier order of service will be issued. It is expected that former residents, friends in Stirling as well as merchants and tradesmen will lend their encouragement by attending this inaugural service sponsored by a thriving rural youth organization. Mr. Russell Pyear is the energetic President and Mrs. Chas. Baily, Secretary-Treasurer.

A Short Short Story

The girl and her boy friend sat in the swing on her front porch. Her boy friend gazed at her in admiration.

She was very pretty, and she looked quite at peace with the universe.

But to herself she was thinking: "This is a dead town. I wish we'd move. What's there to do except go to the movies with your date, stop at the soda fountain, and come home?"

In this town where the girl and her boy friend lived there were high school students who enjoyed themselves in the home economics laboratory, the industrial arts, workshop, the fine arts activities, and the activities of the music room. There were students who took part in school clubs —orchestra, glee club, dramatic group, debating team, science club, school newspaper, nature study group, photography club, the foreign language circle, school magazine, art club, forum, and the variety of athletic teams.

In the town where this girl and her boy friend lived there were boys and girls who went to the concert hall, the bowling alley, the gymnasium, the swimming pool, the playground, the fair, the flying field, the restaurants, the amusement park, the dance hall, the camp, the library, the art gallery, the museum, the band stand, the picnic ground, the zoo, the park, the ball games, the community centre, the handicraft workshop.

In the town where these two lived there were boys and girls who played volleyball(shuffleboard, ,ping pong, baseball, pool, golf, tennis, archery, softball, hockey, croquet; who tobogganed, biked, roller skated, ice skated, canoed, skied, hunted, rode horseback, fished, drove cars.

In their town there were boys and girls who played the piano, decorated leather, listened to the radio and to records, made puppets, went for walks, worked in the garden, square danced, read books and magazines, played cards, attended lectures, sang, enjoyed crafts, went to church and to suppers, just relaxed, studied the stars, went shopping, puttering basement workshops, wrote stories, put on plays, window shopped, painted pictures, sculptured, had parties at home, plied a needle on petit point and samplers, went to meetings and shows, worked in metals, cooked strange and unusual dishes, decorated rooms, studied birds, rocks, and trees, made airplane models, produced home movies, lead clubs, built game boards, built furniture, made drapes, and collected a variety of things from autographs to weapons.

"Are you ready to go?" said her boy friend. She smiled sweetly at him and rose. With her date she went to the movies, stopped at the soda fountain and came home.

You can plainly see that there was nothing to do in that town for those two people. The place was dead — to them. How about your town?

Yukon Road

The 247-mile all-weather highway from Whitehorse, Y.T., on the Alaska Highway to Mayo, completed last year, opens up a large section of the interior to year-round traffic. The new road also goes far in cutting down the difficulties and uncertainties of seasonal river transportation with which mining operations have been faced in the past. The Mayo-Minto Highway provides the Mayo mining district with direct access to the "outside" for its ore and concentrates throughout the year. Coal mined at Carmacks, about half way between Whitehorse and Mayo, can now be hauled to Mayo, Whitehorse and intermediate points, providing cheaper fuel for mining operations than has been obtainable formerly. All freight, except air freight, is now being shipped over the new road, built under supervision of the Department of Resources and Development.

HYDRO POWER DEMANDS SOAR TO NEW HIGHS

Primary demands on Ontario's hard-pressed Southern Ont. resources last week reached new all-time highs for this period of the year.

Hydro Chairman Robert H. Saunders said that the phenomenal and unprecedented growth in primary demands experienced during the last several months was being steadily maintained. Indications were that these conditions would prevail for some time to come.

During the week ending April 22nd, weather conditions which were mainly cloudy to overcast and five degrees below normal temperatures, played a large part in increasing demands above the preceeding week, Mr. Saunders said.

The average week-day primary peak demands for the Southern Ontario System advanced 26,000 kilowatts from that of a week ago, reaching 2,237,000 kilowatts. This amount exceeded the average peak in the corresponding week a year ago by 356,000 kilowatts or 18.9 percent. The primary energy demand for the entire week was up 757,000 kilowatthours, amounting to 286,138,000 kilowatthours, an increase of 51,2.53000 kilowatthours or 21.8 per cent over that of the corresponding week a year ago.

River Valley Women's Institute

Mrs. George Heasman was hostess for the regular meeting on May 3rd of River Valley Women's Institute. There were twenty members, nine visitors and ten children in attendance.

The President, Mrs. Don Donohoe, presided and after the opening devotional Mrs. J. L. Donohoe read the minutes and gave the financial statement. There were five "thank you" messages.

The choice of the district program was "We call it human nature," and "You and your citizenship," with second choice "Treasures in your attic," in combination with the first item. This is to be a full day's program. River Valley Branch decided that they would pay their chare of $5 to the Federation of Agriculture Broadcast of the project is instituted in October. Arrangements were made for a display of quilts, rugs and crochet work at the District Annual which will be sponsored by Wallbridge, and to be held in the Stone Church on Thursday, June 7th, begining at 9.30 a.m. The delegates will be Mrs. Percy MacMullen, President, Secretary and District Director. Two cars will go and anyone wishing to attend are asked to contact Mrs. Ed Heasman or Mrs. Harold Morgan.

A resolution re the abolishment of staples to close cellophane food and candy bags was endorsed and will be forwarded on to the District. The Institute members were asked to purchase tickets for the I.O.D.E. Cooking School the end of May.

A committee of Mrs. Ed Heasman, Mrs. Thomas Hanna and Mrs. Ernest Carr were appointed to confer with the trustees of River Valley Public School re the purchase of movable seats. The entertinment committee hope to have a special event in June. The visitors were welcomed and all the ladies are welcome to join the Institute.

The next meeting will be held a week later, on June 14th at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hanna. The program of "Historical Research" will be in charge of Mrs. Percy Utman and Mrs. Murney Scott and Mrs. MacMullen will give a report of the District Annual.

Roll Call was answered with "Best recipe for a successful marriage." Two new members, Mrs. Ashby and Mrs. Gifford, paid their membership fee. Mrs. Ed. Heasman presided over a short program prepared by the executive. All sang "The Maple Leaf," with the pianist Mrs. Ralph Utman as accompanist. Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave a humorous reading "Just Mary Louise." Mrs. Ralph Utman contributed a piano selection. Mrs. Ernest Carr gave a splendid paper on "The Essentials." To-day there is a scarcity of people willing to work at anything for a seasonable compensation. The three essentials most needed for a successful life are patience, control and courage. Everyone must realize the overall goodness of God and be willing to make use of each day as it comes.

Mrs. Harold Morgan gave a very appropriate poem entitled, "Our Union Jark On Empire Day," after which all sang, "O Canada." The ten cent collection was gathered. There were a bout thirty tins of meat contributed for the boxes which will be shipped to Abbot's Leigh W.I. in Bristol Eng.

The lunch committee served sandwiches, pickles, celery and cookies.

Mrs. Jack Donohoe expressed thanks for hospitality, program and lunch.

St. Andrew's W.M.S.

The May meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Fox on Tuesday afternoon last, with a good attendance. Mrs. L. Rodgers, President, presided over the first part of the meeting. Mrs. Rodgers spoke words of welcome to the members and visitors. After the singing of a hymn, Mrs. Ken Ray read the Scripture Lesson from Luke, Chap. 10. This Lesson plainly tells that any one, black or white who is in need is our neighbour. Love asks no question as to class or colour. Mrs. Rodgers led the meeting in prayer.

Mrs. W. L. Munro read the minutes of the last meeting, after which she conducted the roll call. Roll call was responded to by a verse of Scripture in which the word beauty is found. Mrs. Munro read two letters of correspondence, one from the Head Office of the Bible Society, telling the urgent needs of this great work; the other regarding the Presbyterial Rally which is to be held in Foxboro on June 13th. All members were urged to be present.

Mrs. Rodgers gave a warm welcome on behalf of the members to Mrs. Thos. Spry. The presence of the older members gives new life to the meeting.

Mrs. W. H. V. Walker gave a splendid review of the Synodical at Orangeville in April. This was full of thoughts which should give stability to any meeting. Miss Freida Matthews was one of the speakers. She told of her share in the National work of the Church. The use of the book, "Our Heritage and Our Faith," was most important. At this stage in our history we should be on our toes to do our best to help wherever we can. We need more and more young workers, so let us pray that they may be forthcoming. The Budget of the Church is the common link that joins us together as a common body across the continent.

A special offering was taken for the month of May. Mrs. W. L. Munro conducted the second part of the meeting. All joined in singing, "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing." Mrs. Munro read an account of a thrilling experience of Miss Margaret Kennedy. The true meaning of the word famine and its results was clearly set forth by this account. A piano solo by Mrs. Williams had its message for the meeting.

Mrs. Blanche Reid had the topic. The Presbyterian Church in Canada has the responsibility of two fields in India — the Bhil Field and the Jhansi Field. In these fields the message is proclaimed through educational, medical and evangelistic work. In the Jhansi Field, the Helen Macdonald Memorial School with its membership of two hundred girls is a great challenge for our support of this cause.

At this point Mrs. R. A. Hermiston very tactfully performed a very pleasant duty, the presentation of a Life Membership Certificate to Mrs. Clayton Tummon. This was the generous gift of Mrs. Johansen. In making the presentation, Mrs. Hermiston spoke of Mrs. Johansen's (Mrs. A. Hammond) foresight, generosity and extreme loyalty to the Society, and its work. Mrs. Tummon too had played the part of the good neighbour and good friend in the past and so had earned this great reward. This indeed should stimulate the interest in Missions so that we may learn to give happily and well.

Mrs. Tummon, although taken by surprise, expressed her gratitude to Mrs. Johansen, not only for what she had done now but for what she had done all through the years. A true friend can be a precious gem. The singing of a hymn concluded this part of the meeting.

Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Munro and Mrs. C. Devolin excelled themselves in the serving of a very lovely lunch. A real feeling of fellowship followed.

Mrs. C. Tummon expressed the thanks of the members to Mrs. Fox and her committee for this very great effort.

Hello Homemakers! New ideas in furnishing or re-furnishing a home seem to have come to "light" in the home during this recent housecleaning period. There is the matter of drapes all along the wall on either side of a picture window, shadow-proof curtains in place of sash curtains, aluminum awnings and many big items. Then look at the change in decorating a bedroom to-day where many plastic accessories make storage dust-proof and may be had to harmonize with a variety of color schemes. The garment bags, shoe pockets, hat boxes and orange crate covers make the place a source of pride.

Homemakers who possess sturdy-built, solid pieces of bedroom furniture may always feel their money well spent. However, a mattress may need to be replaced by one of the popular of to-day — the inner spring construction. Some of these mattresses can be purchased of a new comfortable material known as the foamed latex as a lining over the springs. Pillows made of this sponge are durable too.) Springs are equally important. If possible they should be bought to match the mattress. If bought separately, the mattress and springs should be paired to equalize each other, both for comfort and for long service. The three types of bed springs are box, metal coil and flat springs, and within these classifications there are variations of construction.

Pillows, sheets and blankets may be selected to suit the purse and needs of the household. However, bedspreads are chosen to suit the design of the furniture, and for the purpose of the occupants of the room. For instance if the bed is used for seating, then dark coloured corduroy or one of mixed yarns which are strong give better service than satin or faille. Sometimes window curtains of the same material as the spread make an attractive ensemble.

TAKE A TIP

1. When buying sheets, pillow cases, blankets and pillows read the attached labels, note the size and judge the quality wisely.
2. There are two classifications for sheets and pillow cases — percale and muslin. And there are degrees of fineness in both of these grades. The finest of percales of about 204 thread count are luxuriously soft. Regular percale have about 180 thread count. Muslin sheets which are woven to take rugged wear, are of heavier threads and consequently a lower thread count.
3. Consider how often blankets have to be washed and how washed before you buy them. Also whether two light blankets may assure more comfortable sleeping than one heavy one.
4. Judge a blanket by the depth and eveness of the nap and by its resiliency. A good blanket has a springy quality when crushd in the hand. Beware of blankets that shed when brushed with the hand.
5. Electric blankets eliminate the need for extra bedding, as by means of an automatic control, warmth is provided to make up for changes in room temperatures throughout the night.
6. A quick test for a firm Terry or Turkish towel is to hold the towel to the light. Only tiny pin points of light will show through a good towel.
7. Many colored towels will stand bleaching and strong sunlight. Dark solid colors sometimes "bleed" in the first 2 or 3 washings due to excess dyes and they may be less absorbent than white or pastel towels.
8. All towels shrink somewhat in laundering. Check the tension in the border, selavge and main section of the towel to see that it is even.

THE SUGGESTION BOX

1. Do not let towels become excessively soiled before washing them. (New towels should be laundered before use.)
2. Unless very soiled there is no reason to soak Terry towels. In fact it is wise to soak linens in warm water with detergent in it for not more than 1 hour. Twenty minutes is a good precaution against causing colours to bleed and soil to set in.
3. Occasionally a bleach may seem necessary; in such cases follow directions as to quantity of bleach and number of rinsings as this may reduce strength of threads. Bluing restores whiteness to linens.
4. Do not iron Terry towels and cloths for the flattened loops will not absorb moisture readily. Shake the towels before being hung to dry and again when folding to put away.
5. Mend selvages, ravels or tears immediately. Try to avoid sharp corners on bed springs and towel racks — and use good clothespins.

What Others Say!

PAY OF TEACHERS

(Sudbury Star)

The executive secretary of the Ontario Public School Trustees Association told a Sudbury meeting that teacher groups "go on and on in their request for higher salaries until the golden goose is dead."

Most ratepayers are of the opinion that in their role of golden geese they have already been well plucked.

The rising costs of education are Dominion-wide and the burden on municipalities has reached the saturation point, not only in the payment of salaries but in the provision of new and enlarged schools to accommodate the larger school population.

WHAT AN IMPROPER TIME TO COLLECT INCOME TAX

(Fergus News-Record)

By the time the last week in April comes around, fine Spring weather should be here. If the Spring is late, as it is this year, that last April weekend may be the first really pleasant weather for those who like to be outdoors without overcoats. So it was this past week. In addition, the Ontario Government decided to shove the trout season ahead a few days, so that all the trout fishermen had an excuse to get away from home a few hours or a few days. Many men wakened to the noise of a severe thunder storm on Saturday morning and thanked their good fortune that they were not trout fishermen, perched on the dam at Eugenia or in some similar place. But Saturday turned out to be a beautiful day later on, and so was Sunday, and Monday, as we sit down to write this page, also shows promise.

Too bad to spoil such a beautiful time of the year by making income tax returns due on April 30th. Governments have no conception of the finer things of life.

Yes, we know there's nothing to prevent people from making out their income tax returns in January or February. But few do it then.

The lucky ones (though they probably don't realize it) are the ones who have their tax deducted each pay day, while somebody else has to figure out how much they made during the year. For those in business, there's a tremendous amount of bookkeeping necessary.

DRUNK OR SOBER

(Peterborough Examiner)

It is often difficult to prove that a man is drunk at all; it is almost impossible to prove the degree of his drunkenness. If it is a first-rate defence to plead complete drunkenness in cases of this kind, that plea will become popular. Indeed, it is surprisingly popular now, and that is a most disgraceful state of affairs.

There is no such thing as perfect justice. If the law held a man to be fully responsible for all his actions when drunk, some injustice might be done to a few people. But it would be trifling compared with the injustice which is now possible under laws which make drunkenness a useful plea in cases where serious harm has been done to others.

The law must protect the innocent; its chief purpose is not the provision of loopholes through which the guilty may escape. It is time that Canadian law provided or the punishment of guilt, drunk or sober.

LIFE MYSTERY

(Peterborough Examiner)

Thirty-eight years ago there was a lively campaign for better laws respecting the purity of food and drugs in the U.S.A.; one of the leaders in the campaign was Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the Department of Agriculture's bureau of chemistry. As a means of proving his assertions about pure food, Dr. Wiley fed his baby son, Harvey W. Wiley Jr., on a special diet of ground cereal; he was known as "America's best-fed baby". He died last week at the age of 38.

This proves nothing against scientific nutrition, or the desirability of pure food. It does prove a point which needs support at present, viz., that good food and good living conditions do not in themselves guarantee long life or happiness.

We still do not know why people die, some of them young and some of them old. Life is still a mystery, and when we are tempted to think that we have probed all the secrets of the universe it is well for us to recall that fact.

ON MAKING A CALL

This does not apply to women, of course, but by now the word has seeped through to most other people that it is not well to be late for an appointment, especially if one is seeking a job, or trying to sell something. Even in these days there are old-fashioned folk who seek work and sales. Most of these know that although it is bad to be late it is almost as bad to be early. It throws their victim off. If he gives in and sees them ahead of the appointed time, he may be doing so at the expense of leaving some planned work unfinished, and just while he was going good! If he holds out and finishes the job he was at, he likely will feel mean, and he may unconsciously take it out on the applicant who has unfairly put him in this unfavorable position.

But there is a further difficulty. You turn up precisely in the middle of the second and you may irritate your prospect, who secretly knows that he somehow can never seem to do things accurately like that. The whole thing is quite depressing.

Oology is the study of the science of birds eggs.

FARM IMPLEMENT PRICES
Held at Low Percentage of Increase
Offer Outstanding Value for the Money

The chart above clearly shows that in the post-war adjustments to higher costs of material and labour, an outstanding job has been done in maintaining a low percentage of increase on the retail prices of Massey-Harris implements made in Canada.

Raw materials are shown at 103.7% and wages of Massey-Harris Canadian plants 119.1% increase over 1941. Yet Massey-Harris prices of Canadian-made products were increased only 53% in the same period. This is a very moderate increase indeed when compared with the index of all commodities which is up to 83.8%.

Farm implement price indices increased only 53% whereas there was an increase in the price of farm products of 82.3% and farm wage rates of 134.3%.

The great world demand for combines, tractors, and power machines has created a volume which permits high operating efficiency in relation to production and selling costs, making possible the partial absorption of the increased costs of materials and labour. Massey-Harris will continue to offer the utmost in up-to-the-minute design, quality of materials and workmanship, and price value.

Chart shows increase to October, 1950, over October, 1941, except farm wages, which show the increases to August 1950, over August, 1941.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

ROTATION PASTURES

Sheep pasture provided from a rotation of crops gave much better results than permanent pasture during the past 12 years in tests conducted by the Division of Animal Husbandry at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Pastures in a crop rotation not only provided 35 per cent greater carrying capacity than permanent pastures but distributed the grazing more uniformly throughout the season. Where permanent pasture produced 48 per cent of its total carrying capacity in the first month of the grazing season and only seven per cent in the fourth, comparable figures for the rotation pasture showed 30 and 16 per cent respectively.

Experiments showed that seeded grasses and clovers yielded approximately 3,6000 pounds of dry matter per acre, compared with only some 1,950 pounds from the permanent pasture.

TESTING LAWN GRASS SEEDS

Lawn grass mixtures, like field and garden seeds, must meet certain definite standards with regard to the presence of desirable turf-making species, weed seed content and germination as prescribed by the Regulations under the Seeds Act. The quality and grade of a lawn grass mixture is established only after the careful analysis of a representative sample in a seed laboratory of the Plant Products Division, Canada Department of Agriculture.

The purity analysis of a lawn grass mixture is carried out on a small weighed portion of the well-mixed sample. The various grass species constituting the mixture are identified and the percentage of each determined and the total percentage of pure seed in the mixture exclusive of weed seeds chaff and other inert matter is calculated. The percentage of weed seeds is also determined, the noxious or more troublesome ones such as the plantains, chickweeds and the like, being reported in numbers of seeds of each kind per ounce of the mixture.

Sieves are useful in making preliminary separations, but the final separations of the various components of the mixture must be made by careful visual examinations, frequently with the aid of magnifying lenses. E. J. Doyle District Analyst, points out that the seeds of some of the small-seeded grasss are very difficult to differentiate. For example, when Kentucky Bluegrass and Canada Bluegrass are both present in a mixture, the identifications and separations can be made only with the aid of a microscope, the percentage of each being determined by examining and classifying 400 of the Bluegrass seeds. For this work seed analysts must have considerable training, skill, experience and patience.

BEES AND CLOVER SEED

All the important clover crops grown in Canada for seed — red, alsike, white Dutch and sweet clover — are cross pollinated crops, that is, pollen from an unrelated plant must be present for normal seed setting. In addition, all clover crops are insect pollinated and the insects are almost entirely bees. Wind pollination does not occur in a clover crop.

Several different kinds of bees may be present but honey bees are the most abundant and important in this work of cross pollination, points out J. L. Bolton, Federal Forage Crops Laboratory, Saskatooon, Sask. Honey bees, and wild bees such as bumble bees and leaf cutters, are equally effective in pollinating alsike, white Dutch and sweet clover. Some authorities claim that in certain parts of the world, only bumble bees are useful in the pollination of red clover, but in Canada it has been found that honey bees will visit red clover blossoms and are very effective in causing pollination and seed setting of the crop.

The rerommended concentration of honey bees for clover seed production is at least one colony per acre. It has been demonstrated from tests in the United States that two or three colonies per acre give increasing yields of seed and up to five colonies per acre will probably give economic returns. Mr. Bolton points out that a heavy concentration of honey bees in a clover field is likely to lower the yield of honey, but the greater seed yield will more than compensate for the reduced honey crop. This is particularly true, he says, when cool wet weather is fresuent during the seed-setting season and when good "bee weather" must be fully exploited.

HAY AND PASTURE MIXTURE

The formula of a hay and pasture mixture is of basic importance to the purchaser and should be carefully noted. The regulations under the Seeds Act stipulate that "Hay and Pasture" seed mixtures offered for sale must be labelled to indicate the correct percentage of each of the component kinds.

Such labelling provides information to appraise the value of the mixture; it enables the purchaser to choose a grass-legume combination which meets his particular needs and which is adapted to his soil, climatic, and other conditions. A well-balanced grass-legume combination generally produces more hay of better quality, it makes better pastures from the standpoint of succulenc, pormanence and seasonal production.

CARE NEEDED IN USING PESTICIDES, OFFICIAL WARNS

All insecticides and other pesticides must be toxic to the organisms they are designed to control and nearly all are toxic, to a greater or less degree, to man and animals. A few, such as pyrethrum and derris, which are highly effective against certain insects, present little danger to warm blooded animals.

Registration requirements for pesticides under the Pest Control Products Act calls for the guidance of the users of these products. Where necessary, the word POISON, the skull and crossbones symbols and the antidote are prescribed. For the less acutely dangerous materials such simple cautions as avoiding inhalation and contact and preventing contamination of foodstuffs are regarded as sufficient. But no pesticide product should be described or treated as "safe," "non-poisonous" or "non-injurious," says P. M. Overholt, who supervises registrations under the Act.

During the past few years numerous new chemicals have been developed for pest control, some of which are only moderately hazardous while others are highly dangerous to man and other animals, if carlessly used. Insecticides of the chlorinated hydrocarbon class, of which DDT is the most familiar example, are toxic to man and animals but can be used with reasonable safety when precautions are observed. A more recent class of insecticide, th organic phosphates, highly effective against aphids and mites in orchards and greenhouses, and represented by parathion and allied compounds, are among the most acutely dangerous pesticide materials and call for the most rigid car and precaution in handling and using, comments Mr. Overholt.

The aim of all concerned is to maintain and improve the effectiveness of pesticides and at the same time to reduce the danger to a minimum.

BLANCHING VEGETABLES

In recent years locker plants for frozen foods have taken an important place in the food budgets of thousands of Canadians from coast to coast. Householders in town and country are now making use of this method of food preservation and both fruits and vegetables are being used in increasing quantities. F. E. Atkinson, food technologist at the Experimental Station, Summerland, B.C., has found that a large proportion of locker space is given to vegtables which will seriously deteriorate if not properly blanched, and warns that hay-like flavours and dull colours may result if precautions are not taken.

Mr. Atkinson describes blanching as a treatment whereby vegetables are subjected to steam or hot water for varying lengths of time. It is designed to kill the cellular tissues and thus reduce harmful reactions to a minimum. In a sense it is a pre-cook treatment so that when later on the product is removed from the locker, all that is required before serving is to bring it to a boil for a short time.

Corn on the cob, for example, when cooked fresh from the garden is often boiled for 10-12 minutes, while a satisfactory blanch for large cobs would be eight to ten minutes. When they are taken from the locker or freezer, only two to three minutes boiling is needed. The combined heating treatment for the frozen corn is therefore practically the same as if the cobs had been cooked as a fresh vegetable.

Suggested time for blanching different vegetables is given in Publication 773, Freezing Fruits and Vegetables. Copies are available on request from the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Mr. Atkinson points out that it is of the utmost importance to chill the product immediately after blanching in ice water or under the cold water tap. It should then be packaged and delivered to the storage locker as quickly as possible.

Householders have found that many products can be put into the locker with little preparation and kept satisfactorily for several months. Typical of this group are blueberries, gooseberries and cranberries. Other fruits such as strawberries, raspberries and loganberries should be in syrup or a combination of the fruit's juice and dry sugar for best results.

JUNIOR PLOWMEN TO TOUR IN U.S.

On Sunday, May 6th, a party of four Ontario Juniors and a trip manager on the Salada Agricultural and Conservation Tour of the United States which constituted the prize for the two top teams in Inter-County Plowing Competition for Juniors at the International Plowing Match last Fall. This as announced by J. A. Carroll, Secretary-Manager for the Ontario Plowmen's Association. Those taking part in the tour are the winning team of Gerald and Ivan Bell from Victoria County; the second place team of Geo. Markie and Tom Braithwaite from Wentworth County; and LeRoy Brown, Agricultural Representative from Victoria County who will act as manager for this two-and-a-half week trip.

In the course of their tour, this group will visit several States and see some of the leading conservation projects of that area. In addition they will be shown a number of the best farms of Ohio and Kentucky.

Mr. Carroll points out that this tour will wind up the events connected with the 1950 International Plowing Match, but hastens to all that plans for the 1951 Match are already well under way. It will be held on the farms of John Hargreaves and Sons, five miles southwest of Woodstock on the four days October 9th to 12th inclusive. He states that applications for space in the headquarters area are more numerous than they were at same time last year. Those desiring such space can apply to the Secretary, Ontario Plowmen's Association, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, though those in the Woodstock area should contact the Secretary of the Oxford Committee, George Bell, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Woodstock, Ont.

See Cortisone As Rheumatic Fever Control

There is now new hope in controlling rheumatic fever — "one of the commonest and also one of the most disabling diseases of the first two decades of life" — says Dr. Harold A. Williams in an article, "Hormone Treatment for Rheumatic Fever," in the current issue of Health, magazine, published by the Health League of Canada.

Dr. Williams, on the staff of Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children, relates how the hormone Cortisone has had beneficial effects in the treatment of rheumatic fever. Selected groups of children have been treated at the Toronto Hospital and in several American centres.

All investigators found that fever was eliminated, arthritis was controlled rapidly and signs of activity disappeared. The children put on weight and looked happy and well. Both color and appetite improved.

"Thus, since symptoms of rheumatic fever are promptly relieved and the general condition of the patient improved," writes Dr. Williams, "it is reasonably hoped that the severity of rheumatic fever may be reduced if the children suffering from this disease can be treated early.

"Cortisone is a hormone that is a normal secretion of one of the glands of the body. It would appear that additional amounts of this hormone increase the ability of the body to resist damage in the presence of certain diseases. Another hormone which produces similar effects is called ACTH.

"Cortisone and ACTH are still relatively scarce and very expensive, and up to the present time have been available only in certain hospitals. However, like penicillin, they will probably soon be more readily obtainable and their benefits will then be more widespread."

Dr. Williams comments, however, that the treatment still presents problems — problems which will be solved it is hoped, when the two hormones are available in larger supply and when more cases have been treated and observed.

International Red Cross Day

Tuesday, May 8th, 68 Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies throughout the world, with more than 100,000,000 members observed International Red Cross Day which is also the 123rd anniversary of the birth of Henri Dumant, founder of the Red Cross movement.

It was in 1859 that the 31-year-old Genevese banker stood on a hill overlooking Solferino in Italy and gaped in horror at the sight below. What he saw stirred him deeply and inspired him to devote the remainder of his life to the organization of some international body that would de everything possible to aid the wounded in wartime.

That day the Red Cross was born.

From that scene of carnage where men lay dying sprang the Red Cross whose essentially humanitarian activity has spread around the world to 68 countries and whose millions of members are constantly endeavouring to create a closer brotherhood.

From that desire to succor the wounded on the field of battle the Red Cross has grown to the voluntary organization in the world and while one of its prime functions is still to assist the wounded and captured in wartime, it also renders a multitude of other services, all intended to benefit mankind.

The Canadian Red Cross with its more than 1,300 branches, has expanded along with its sister societies until today it is accepted as a part of Canada's national life. Outstanding among its many services is the Blood Transfusion Service which, active for four years in civilian and military hospitals, has now been called upon to provide blood and blood products for Canada's armed forces.

PRODUCTION UP

Total value of the silver-lead-zinc-cadmium production in Yukon Territory for 1950 was estimated at $5,454,650; more than double the 1949 figure of $2,117,874. Greater mineral production and a rise in base metal prices reports the Department of Resources and Development, accounted for this sizeable jump in total value. With the sharp increase in base metal prices since the war, interest has grown rapidly in the rich silver-lead-zinc deposits and other base metals centred in the Keno-Galena Hill area of the central Yukon.

Before turning the valve which started Alberta oil flowing into tankage at Sarnia refinery, Premier Leslie M. Frost boarded the Imperial Leduc, largest lake tanker in the world, and congratulated her master, Capt. T. K. R. Knight, of Sarnia, on his new command. The ship was built to carry Alberta oil from the terminal of the Interprovincial Pipe Line across the Great Lakes to Ontario and picked up her first cargo as soon as navigation opened on the upper lakes. The arrival of Alberta oil in Ontario, the Premier said, makes Canada more self-sufficient and marks the beginning of a new phase in the progress of our country.

Oil from the Sarnia area once moved west into the prairies but now Alberta oil moves east to serve the homes and industries of Ontario, Premier Leslie M. Frost of Ontario said at a ceremony marking the first delivery of Alberta crude oil via pipe line and tanker to Sarnia. Stating the event was a milestone in Canadian economic history, the Premier said it meant a bigger market for the west and would make Canada more self-sufficient in oil supplies. Here, as refinery employee Wm. Taylor watches, Premier Frost turns a valve to start the first oil flow from the Imperial Leduc, world's largest lake tanker, into shore tankage.

WILLIAM EDWARD FITCHETT

Following a lengthy illness, Mr. William Edward Fitchett, a highly esteemed resident of this village, died on Saturday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Strickland, Lindsay, where he had been residing for the past two months. He was in his 80th year.

Born in Huntingdon Township, the late Mr. Fitchett was a carriage maker by trade and conducted a business in Tweed for several years prior to moving to a farm a few miles east of Stirling on the 1st Concession of Rawdon Township, in 1906. In 1927 he retired from the farm and moved to this village.

The late William Fitchett was a good citizen, taking an active interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of the community. He served on the Municipal Council for a time and took a most active part in the work of the Stirling Agricultural Society. He was well known as a poultry fancier and was frequently called on to act as a judge of poultry at the district fairs.

Fraternally he was a member of Stirling Lodge, No. 239, I.O.O.F. He was a faithful member of St. Paul's United Church and was an elder of that congregation.

Mother's Day Marked By Special Services In Local Churches

Edifices Are Adorned with Spring Flowers — Special Musical Numbers Enjoyed

Mother's Day was observed in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last Sunday at 11 a.m., with a special order of service being followed. Beautiful cut flowers adorned the altar and Mrs. R. H. Williams presided at the console of the organ.

Special music inculded a "Mother's Day Hymn," by the Junior Choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Clarke Rodgers. The Misses Joan Cranston, Muriel Devolin, Carolyn Rollins and Marie Montgomery sang, "Hosanna, Loud Hosanna," and a Young People's Choir rendered a suitable number entitled, "Happy the Home When God Is There." All these were greatly enjoyed by the large and appreciative congregation.

The Scripture Lessons were taken by Mr. O. Clapper and Robert Munro. Kenneth Fargey, Allan Johnston, Paul Rollins and Garry Woodbeck, repeated the Books of the New Testament, while Sally Fox and Carolyn Fargey gave appropriate recitations.

Certificates for Scripture Memory Work were presented to Carolyn Fargey and Sally Fox by Assistant Superintendent, Miss Gena Spry, who in a few remarks, explained how these rewards were obtained.

Rev. W. H. V. Walker gave an address on the theme Christian Discipleship and the Home.

St. Paul's and Carmel

The Sacrament of Baptism infant and adult was administered on the St. Paul's-Rawdon Pastoral Charge on Mother's Day.

At Carmel Leslie Daryl Pyear, born December 29th, 1950, infant son of Douglas Pyear and his wife Shirley Robson was dedicated to the Lord. The proud grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pyear and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Robson stood with the baptismal trinity.

At St. Paul's the following lovely children were brought to the temple and given christian names in the rite of baptism:

William Paul Vandervoort, born on March 23rd, 1951, at Belleville, father Dr. Ralph W. Vandervoort, mother Edith Fay Kelly; Shirley Anne McDonnell, born August 18th, 1950, at Belleville, father Allan Myles McDonnell, mother Margaret Airhart; Cheryl Lynne Stapley, born March 1st, 1951, at Belleville, father Grant Howard Stapley, mother Barbara Anne Prince; Sharon Elaine Bailey, born October 7th, 1950, at Belleville, father James Ewart Bailey, mother Helen Mae Johnston; Jacqueline Ann Finkle, born on March 23rd, 1950, at Belleville, father Gilbert S. Finkle, mother Helen Fitchett; adult Baptism, Allen Myles McDonnell.

The babies were all beautiful and their proud parents were matched in interest by the equally proud grandparents. The Fitchett family was represented by four generations (1) Mrs. Wm. Fitchett (grandmother) (2) Mr. and Mrs. Carman Fitchett (grandparents) and Mrs. Evelyn Finkle (grandmother), (3) Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Finkle — Mrs. Finkle is a granddaughter of Mrs. Fitchett and their lovely baby (4) Jacqueline Ann.

Flowers

St. Paul's and Carmel Churches were fragrant with bloom and blossom. Ontario's floral emblem the "White Trillium" in regal purity overflowed in bowls and baskets while spring blooms filled the pedestals.

Memorial cut flowers and plants with tulips, snapdragons, geraniums and hydrangeas revealed the touch of God in nature's garden. These tributes were sent by Mrs. N. Wescott and Mrs. N. Morton in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reynolds; R. H. Philip and his sons Robert and Bryce in loving memory of a devoted wife and mother, who entered her rest October 3rd, 1950; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rodgers in loving memory of Mr. Rodgers parents, Cynthia and Robert Rodgers; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pitcher in loving memory of their mothers, Mrs. Henry Pitcher and Mrs. Wm. Dafoe, Frankford.

Gordon and Wayne Wannamaker, Wendy Warren and her mother, Mr. and Mrs: Geo. Carlisle and others graciously provided the wild flowers at St. Paul's and Mrs. Walter Elliott

Home Burns

Four persons are homeless as the result of a fire on Friday evening last that destroyed a two storey farm home near Menie, about seven miles southeast of Campbellford. The house on the property of Charles Johns was occupied by a French family who came to Canada from France only four months ago. The family operated the farm for Mr. Johns. Cyprien Majeute, his wife and two children aged 11 months and two years have taken up temporary residence with Mr. Johns.

Mrs. H. M. Donald Dies at Campbellford

The. Rev. Dr. D. M. Smith of St. John's United Church, Campbellford, assisted by the Rev. A. E. Toombs, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, of Campbellford, conducted funeral services at 1.30 p.m., Monday afternoon for the late Alice Isabelle Donald, who died at her Centre St. residence, in Campbellford, on Saturday following a brief illness. She was 61.

The wife of Harvey M. Donald, of Campbellford, a former mayor of that town, Mrs. Donald was the daughter of the late John Little and Emma Milne, of Seymour. She had lived in Campbellford for the past 30 years. A member of St. John's United Church, Mrs. Donald was active in the choir for a number of years, in the work of the church and its affiliated organizations.

Besides her husband, one son, Maclean, survive.

Funeral services were conducted from the family residence on Centre St., Campbellford, with interment in Burnbrae Cemetery. Pall bearers were Messrs. Harold Twigg, George Lucy, Harold Pierce, Stuart Nelson, Robert Patterson and Walter Henson.

Late afternoon from four o'clock on — is the most dangerous time of day for children on the streets and highways.

Mother's Day

tastefully arranged them.

At Carmel Mrs. Lorne Brooks did an excellent job of flower arrangement, which included a beautiful memorial basket, the gift of Edward Pyear and all the members of his family, in loving memory of a devoted wife, mother grandmother who entered her rest on October 16th, 1950.

The large congregations were like a great pattern of life with the white and coloured flowers worn by almost every worshipper blended in tribute to motherhood.

Music

Mrs. Maisie Hunter Fowler, Scotch born dramatic soprano was heard with amazing clarity of diction and the evidence of long training under the guidance of the late Dr. Fricker in Mozart's "Alleluia;" "Spirit of God," Neidlinger; "Hymns of the Old Church Choir;" "Praise the Lord," Handel; and two numbers at Carmel. The Choir of St. Paul's sang, "O Saviour of the World," by Sir John Goss; the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah; "Saviour Thy Children Keep," and a special prayer hymn for Mother's Day, kindly furnished by Mrs. H. C. Martin. Misses Helen and Joan Stapley rendered a lovely Mother's Day duet at the morning service. A wide range of specially chosen organ voluntaries were also used.

U.R. Welcome Club

Edward Warren, President of the U.R. Welcome Club presided at the evening service and read the Lesson, Proverbs Chapter 31.

The service theme was "Sons who did their mother's honour." Capt. Robert Falcon Scott of Antarctic fame was represented by Harry Vandervoort with Mrs. Vandervoort as narrator; General Wm. Booth was represented by George Ellerby of the Belleville Salvation Army Corps with Mrs. Maurice Bell as narrator; Cecil John Rhodes was represented by Allan M. McDonnell with Mrs. McDonnell as narrator; Sir Christopher Wren was represented by Edward G. Warren with Mrs. Warren as narrator. The service was both educational and inspiring. The narrators did extra well and with the men revealed some of the talent wealth of this organization.

Maurice Bell graciously loaned and supervised the P.A. System. Bryce Philip operated the spotlight and Glenn Belcour was in charge of the main control switch. Members of the Club acted as ushers and stewards. A fine battery of boys and girls were in the church gallery. The choir attended in goodly number.

Mr. Geo. Ellerby sang with power and beauty the founder's hymn, "O Boundless Salvation," with Mrs. Ellerby at the piano.

Memory Work

At St. Paul's Jean Ann Mayhew, Sandra Wells, Jack Donnan, Ralph Carlisle, Beverley Cooney, Caroline Hansen, Gail Juby, Wayne Wannamaker and Fairlie Warren, Grade II pupils repeated the books of the Old Testament, while at Carmel the pupils of Glen Ross S.S. No. 22, sang the verses of the Bible in a descriptive arrangement.

The Royal Choir interpreted "God Be In My Head," by Sir Walford Davies and the ever popular theme verse "M-O-T-H-E-R."

Nature provided a glorious day and large congregations were present to honour their mothers and their mother's God.

We are indebted to the Rev. Herbert Clarke, of Deseronto, grandson of the Clarke after whom the "Clarke Cemetery" was named at Eggleton for the information that the corner stone of the present St. Andrew's Church in Stirling was laid by a Methodist Minister from Campbellford.

With the tourist season approaching steps should be taken to have Stirling included in the direction signs at the crossing of the Moira River in Belleville. Some centres are indicated two or three times. Stirling, the focal centre of the county is bi-passed Perhaps we need a Chamber of Commerce though it does seem that Stirling has organizations aplenty.

Our lovely village could be enhanced by the painting of our flag poles and the unfurling of Union Jacks. A lovely pole in the park opposite the Presbyterian Church stands bleak and bare. Why did our fathers at great pains put it there?

With the approach of the Annual Conferences is it well to note some features of the United Church, namely: The pastoral term is without time limit. The practice of some congregations in inviting a minister to stay for another year is obsolete. If a congregation desires to express its thanks to a minister at its Annual Meeting it is quite proper, but to invite him back for another year is a survival of the itinerant system which is not recognized by the United Church of Canada.

The salary of a Minister is pledged by a congregation at his Induction and is by the law of a church a first claim on its income. While it is rarely resorted to nevertheless a minister can collect his full money if necessary by civil court action.

A change of pastorate may be affected by (a) death; (b) the desire of the minister; (c) the desire of the congregation. (b) and (c) can only take place when approved by the Presbytery concerned.

The Stewards in the United Church are responsible for maintenance including the minister's salary. The Session is responsible for all spiritual matters and the Trustees for the provisions of the deed under which church property is held. The Minister is not specifically responsible for anything except leadership. He should secure the endorsation of his Elders, Stewards or Trustees for any action related to their duties.

All matters should be decided by a majority vote except where the rules of order or constitution directs otherwise.

Sometimes one or two persons will undertake to "boss" a church. It should be remembered that every member has an equal voice and vote and that Congregational Meetings constitute the highest general authority in the local church.

Since the United Church does not desire its Ministers to have the temporal burden of the Church a layman presides as Chairman of the Stewards. A Minister is not a member of the committee of Stewards but usually attends by courtesy of that body. He is Chairman of the Trustee Board, the Session and the Congregational Meeting. Provision is made for an alternate chairman at the Congregational Meeting only if the Minister prefers not to act.

In the event of the death of a Minster, the Minister's widow has the right to occupy the Parsonage until the close of the Conference year and to receive his salary up to that time. Where a death occurs early in the Conference year, that is after July 1st, it is customary to arrange a satisfactory settlement with his widow.

Horticultural Society

We are pleased to learn that Stirling has had a Horticultural Society for fifty years and that it is showing a quickening interest in the beautification of our public places as well as home lawns and gardens.

Beautiful Stirling presents a great opportunity with lovely homes, fine public buildings and winding stream. Every citizen should support the ambitious program of our Horticultural Society.

Old Hostelries according to the considerate designation of our civil authorities in earlier years were called "places of public entertainment." Among these in the village of Stirling was the Kirby House which later was known as the Paisley Hotel. Now it is operated by a man whose name alone would distinguish the racial origin of his forebearers, as an apartment house. It's former sign area has been painted over while the building awaits a new name.

The lovely retiring couple who now manage the erstwhile public house were married in the home of the bride's parents. They were doubtless a product of the cheese making industry for it was cheese making that took Thomas Edward McCaughen to Wellman's and it was cheese making that made the public reputations of the bride's father, Jas Whitton and his accomplished wife the former Emily Tompkins.

Although Mrs. Whitton had the oversight of a family of twelve when all were at home yet she found time to teach numerous apprentices the cheese making art. So accofplished was this instructor in cheddar cheese making that she was the recipient of an engraved gold watch awarded to her by the Dairymen's Board of Trade, Belleville, September 25th, 1889 for the best in the finest white and colored cheese shown by 48 competitors.

Thomas was born in the lovely Oak Hills of Sidney, October 7th, 1872. His parents moved when he was very young to the Ridge Road district where he attended the historic school of Section No. 1. Miss Liza McInish was his teacher. He followed the craft of cheese making for thirty years and combined with it the operation of a store at Wellman's for seventeen years. Mr. McCaughen also won firsts for his cheese at the Canadian National Exhibition. Mr. and Mrs. McCaughen sang in the Wellman's Choir for many years. Mr. McCaughen's father's name was Isaac and his mother's prior to her marriage was Nancy Montgomery. His grandfather Thomas came from Ireland.

Mrs. McCaughen's father on retiring from cheese making became an inspector of cheese. She has two sisters Cynthia (Mrs. Tice), Belleville; Blanche (Mrs. Morris), Brandon, and two brothers, George, of Detroit, and Will of Markdale. Five members of the family are deceased. Of Mr. McCaughen's family, only one sister, Mrs. Carleton Wright, of Stirling, (famous coffee maker) is living. A second sister Minnie died some years ago.

Thomas Edward McCaughen and his wife Ethel Gertrude Whitton observed their golden wedding anniversary in Detroit last year. Now surrounded by their son Jack and his wife and grandson Wayne, who live in an adjourning apartment and their daughter Jean (Mrs. Harold Morgan) and grandaughter Beverley of the "Towers" Stirling, they are spending the sunset hours of life.

For several years Mr. McCaughen operated a bus service to Batawa. Recently he has been forced by failing health to relinquish this service. This quiet living couple are loyal to the best things of life and many will follow them with sincere prayer and well wishes.

It is of historic interest to learn that Mrs. McCaughen's father was apprentice to a Yankee cheese maker and from him took over the first cheese factory in the district which was located at Burnbrae. Soon after he opened a second factory at Wellman's.

The candle of "hope" never burns out in the heart of a christian. After long years of waiting Walter Barker with his cheer-radiating wife worshipped at St. Paul's Mother's Day. We are glad that a fine day made it possible for many who would otherwise be confined to their homes to be at church.

Strong and stalwart sons and lovely daughters supported their proud mothers. It was a sermon in itself to see this evidence of consideration and affection.

Mount Pleasant

Mother's Day Service

On Sunday afternoon, May 13th, a special Mother's Day Service was held at Mount Pleasant United Church, based on the theme, "If ye love me keep my commandments." The edifice was a bower of beauty with potted plants and spring flowers. The children of the Sunday School and Mission Band occupied the choir loft and they sang two numbers, "Happy the Home," and "Can A Little Child Like Me." The Junior Choir was trained by Mrs. Marguerite McMullen and Mrs. Herbert Smith. A vocal trio, "That Sweet Story of Old," was rendered by Rodger Smith, David Potts and Raeburn Scott. Miss Betty McConnell was the pianist for the service. The Bible verses were given by Eleanor Smith, Lola McConnell, George Scott, Walter Wrightman and Doreen Bailey.

Miss Ruth Sharp gave the special story entitled "Chen-Yu." Several members of the Mission Band gave their own short prayers, with the Junior Choir singing a response after each and at the close the assistant leader of the Mission Band, Mrs. John Mulheron, wove them all together in a very gracious prayer in honour of mother. The first Mother's Day was founded in 1907 by Miss Anna M. Jarvis, and in 1914 President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day and now forty countries recognize this special occasion. Miss Jarvis died in November 1948 blind and penniless.

Prior to the meeting Mr. Gregg visited some of the boys. He was glad to report that the project was started well and that records had been adequately kept. He plans to visit each member at least once during the Club year.

Hello Homemakers! Many jobs pop [illegible] suddenly during the month of [illegible] that we homemakers require extra [illegible] these helpers need to know how to [illegible] assistance without "upsetting the a[illegible]art.'

Let us review items from our housekeeping notebook that are a guide for those that require some tuition.

1. Fry fresh fish in a small amount of salad oil for 12 minutes, no longer.
2. An easy sauce for fish is made with one cup plain white sauce. Beat 2 egg yolks and add the sauce then stir 2 tbsps. butter, and 1 tbsp. lemon juice. Beat for 1 minute and serve.
3. If the boys plan to take the frying pan to the river bank for frying the trout be sure to rub the outside with soap. The black soot can then be washed off.
4. For an economical pudding using maple syrup beat 3 eggs and add ½ cup maple syrup, 2 cups milk, ½ tps. salt, 2 tbsps. chopped nuts and 1 cup soft crumbs. Pour into greased custard cups and oven poach at moderate temperature for 30 mins.
5. Deep-dish rhubarb pudding is stylish this month. Serve the dessert with cream into which you have sprinkled a little nutmeg or cinnamon.
6. With a cheese souffle for a supper dish serve a platter of vegetables: riced potatoes, buttered asparagus, corn niblets; and also a dish of tomato aspic flavoured with fresh mint.
7. Keep ice-box cookie dough in waxed paper in the refrigerator. When you want cookies, just slice off as needed and bake fresh cookies.
8. Keep baking powder dry or it will lose its leavening. Then too always shake the box occasionally and use a dry measuring spoon for level measurements.
9. Crisp any wilted asparagus by placing the stems in cold water for a-while.
10. Rolls and muffins even though bone-dry can be freshened by sprinkling thoroughly with water, sealing in a piece of aluminum foil, then heated in a warm oven for 20 minutes.

HOUSEKEEPING FACTS

11. Sorting clothes for washing is a good opportunity to remove pins which might tear clothes, turn the pockets inside out, turn down cuffs on slacks, get rid of sand, grass and grit and give each garmet a look-over for stains before placing in soapy water.
12. Soaking clothes overnight in water which has cooled down and in suds that have died down has a doubtful cleaning value. The oldfashioned long-soaking tends to give the clothes a grayish cast. Tests indicate that 15 minutes soaking in warm suds is best.
13. Never wash woollens in hot water; use lukewarm suds with 3 or 4 inches of suds. Do not soak and do not operate washing machine longer than 3 to 5 minutes. Rinse 3 times and press out the water each time.
14. Soften the water for rinsing all clothes. If you use borax measure 1 teaspoonful per gallon of water.
15. Never leave wet colored clothes in a basket. If it begins to rain before clothes are dry, hang them on hangers covered with foil or wooden hangers.
16. When damp clothes have to be kept before ironing prevent mildew by storing in the electric refrigerator or hang to dry and redampen next day.
17. Let skirt hems dry before ironing. Then iron from hem to waist, never across the width of garment. This is important when the skirt is made of any material which has a tendency to stretch or distort.
18. Most rayon fabrics should be pressed while slightly damp, although spun rayons usually look best if ironed when almost dry.
19. Use the electric steam iron on rayon and wool blended fabrics.
20. Always hang slacks or any type of trousers by the legs after washing. The wet weight will take almost all the wrinkles out.
21. When ironing skirt or blouse collars press from each corner towards the back of the collar to eliminate those undesirable wrinkles which persist in crinkling the front edges.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. R. K. asks: What kind of cleanser can I use on plastic dishes?

Answer: Cleansing chemicals destroy the finish of plastic. Use soap and water only.

Miss H. C. asks: How do you take care of a wooden salad bowl and the spoon and fork?

Answer: Wipe out with a waxed paper after each use, then with a damp cloth. Never immerse in water or soak. Keep away from heat and do not keep in the refrigerator for more than an hour at any time. If roughened smooth with sandpaper, never vanish or paint them.

Farm Boys Take Salada Conservation Tour

Gerald Bell Ivan Bell Tom Braithwaite George Markle

An opportunity to study land conservation and soil improvement methods in the Eastern United States will be afforded four Ontario farm boys within the next few weeks. The boys are members of the first and second prize winning teams in the Junior Inter-County Plowing event at last year's International Plowing Match held at Alliston. They are Gerald Bell, 19, of Woodville and Ivan Bell, 15, of Kirkfield, representing Victoria County; and George Markle, 18, of Alberton and Tom Braithwaite, 19, of Ancaster, representing Wentworth County.

The trip, which is expected to take the party as far south as Kentucky and Tennessee, is being sponsored by the Salada Tea Company to encourage good farming methods and will be conducted by LeRoy G. Brown, provincial agricultural representative at Lindsay and a member of the Ontario Plowmen's Association

L. G. Brown Coach

Leaving on May 6th, it is expected that the party will go first to Ohio where they will inspect the famous Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District, the Ohio Breeders Co-operative and Malabar Farm. Other highlights of the trip will include a visit to the Blue Grass country in Kentucky and a tour of the Tennessee Valley conservation project.

Mr. Brown's comments on American agricultural methods and their application to Canadian farms will appear in a number of weekly articles.

Students Keen For Tree Planting

Weather was favourable for tree planting operations last week and Zone Forester Edwards reports lots of enthusiasm.

12 schools from Thurlow Township took part in a planting day at the Township Forest Plot on April 30th with 157 pupils present. Approximately 8,000 young trees were set out. On May 3rd some 165 students representing ten schools in Kaladar, Sheffield, Camden and Bedford Townships visited the Lennox and Addington County Forest near Flinton and planted another 5,000 trees.

A second planting day was held at the Flinton site on Saturday, when members of the Centerville Forestry Club and a Boy Scout Troop from Napanee combined a field trip with the Reforestration project.

Mt. Pleasant W.M.S.

The regular meeting of Mount Pleasand W.M.S. was held on May 9th at the home of Mrs. Will Hubble with fourteen members, five visitors and two Baby Band children in attendance.

The President, Mrs. Ross Hoard, read a poem entitled, "God Is In Every To-Morrow." Mrs. Kenneth Weaver played quiet music and all sang "Take Time To Be Holy," and prayer. The minutes were approved and Roll Call answered with various thoughts and Bible verses. The Treasurer reported almost thirteen dollars for April. A letter re ordering the 1950 Annual Report was read. Thanks was extended the hostess for hospitality.

The visitors and members who had been absent through illness were all welcomed. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Hay. The usual Family Party will be held at the church hall in July, when both Bands and their leaders and mothers will be entertained.

Mrs. Herbert Smith gathered the offering of $8.65 and this was dedicated to Missions. Three fees were paid, one a new member, Mrs. Robert Merrick. Mrs. Will Potts read "The Stewardship of Prayer," from the Missionary Monthly. It is said the reason God used D. L. Moody was that his love for God was so great that it overflowed into the lives of other people as a water jar filled beyond capacity will soften the driest ground. All sang "O Safe To The Rock." Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave a summary of the Study Chapter, "Life Begins At 2600." Here we find Japan ready and willing to be born again as a democratic nation. Through land reform almost five million acres were bought and resold to the tenant farmers. The first man who invested in this scheme was seventy-four years old. His ancestors for ten generations had been farmers and this was the first time any of them had owned land in their own right.

The government still controls the main railway lines, salt, tobacco and camphor, but business circles are privileged to dispose of their shares to small investors and this freedom from government domination is proving a great asset. Rich beds of coal have been discovered and 6 million agricultural families are in existence. The labour movement is making tremendous strides and the Civil Code is phrased. All of the private rights shall conform to public welfare. There are many charitable organizations at work and class distinctions are on their way out. Recreation is flourishing and Japan is preparing for the time when she will once more be represented in the Olympics. The Diet in 1948 reads "The Emperor shall be the symbol of the state and of the unity of the people." The Emperor's popularity is increasing and in 1948 over fifty thousand people went to pay their respects on New Year's Day.

Japan today takes her place as the first nation dedicated to peace. Since 1949 people have been free to display the Japanese Rising Sun flag, but few take advantage of the official permission. In 1946 there were thirty-nine women elected to the Diet. Japan has a new system of compulsory education. Subscriptions to newspapers is increasing rapidly. The peace societies are flourishing and it all adds up to the inevitable conclusion that Japan's defeat was better for her than victory would have been. Japan as a nation dedicated to peace and Democracy will one day have a far more valuable contribution to make to the world. Truly the doors of Japan are open and a great opportunity lies ahead.

Mrs. Will Hubble rendered a beautiful violin selection with organ accompaniment by the President. The special programme was based on the theme, "How we can work for peace through helping to feed the hungry." It is difficult to convince Canadians — the best people in the world — that two-thirds of the world's population are under-nourished. Science can teach us all new ways of increasing food production.

A special leaflet prepared by Mrs. W. R. Lang and Miss Annie Bishop entitled, "How we are working for peace through food-aid," pointed out that taking food to the hungry is a responsibility of the christian citizen and a constructive step toward peace among peoples. The President introduced this special leaflet and gave a vivid picture of famine and its dire results.

Mrs. Roy Thrasher and Mrs. Frank Jeffs took the question and answer parts and from this we gleaned the following: The majority of the hungry people in our world live in Africa, India, China, South America and the East Indies. Some nations have far too much food. Coffee is dumped in Brazil, potatoes destroyed in the United States and in Canada fifteen million bushels of grain is used for the manufacture of liquor and beer.

Mrs. Ross Jeffs read the Bible lesson found in the Gospel of Matthew. The Voice of Christian Missions says, "there is only one God and Father of all men and that all men must be gathered into one fold of fellowship in Christ."

In October 1945 the food and agricultural organization (F.A.O.) was formally founded at Quebec and since then sixty-three nations have agreed to work together to secure permanent peace through freedom from hunger. Canada has contributed greatly to the support of this project. The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund has been instrumental in helping thirty million children, victims of war torn Europe. Ways and means of distributing surplus food is being solved through a world surplus commodity co-operative and it is being studied by world agricultural experts.

In the section, "Bread versus Bullets," it was pointed out that Canada in a three year plan has a defence project of five billion dollars and already Canada has spent fifty million dollars to combat aggression in Korea. What a vast amount of welfare work could be accomplished with that amount of money. We must keep constantly before us the belief and conviction that making and keeping friends across the world is our best insurance against war. That is the message of Missions.

The closing dialogue depicted Mrs. Apathy (want) and Mrs. Aid (help) as they considered some of the things that are actually being done through the World Council of Churches.

Several illustrations were given re feeding its refugees and the distribution of clothing. A description of the work of the Licensed Agency for Relief in Asia and the work of our own United Church Missionary, Dr. Bott, was given. Thousands of pounds of powdered milk has been distributed to Orphanages. The Canadian Church Relief board is a co-operative undertaking by all denominations uniting in the Canadian Council of Churches.

The names of needy families will be given on request for those wishing to pack and send food parcels direct; also individual food parcels can be forwarded through Canadian C.A.R.E., 73 Albert Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Last year the Supply Dept. of Mount Pleasant Auxiliary forwarded three bales valued at 167 dollars and five dollars in cash for overseas relief. The President asked all the ladies to be prepared to contribute something for a bale at a later date when plans will be made for "Salvage Sewing." Mrs. Gordon Linn, Supply Secretary, presented last year's outline of the need.

The service closed with the hymn "In Christ There Is No East Or West," and Mrs. H. C. Vaclavik offered prayer.

LAWRENCE CECIL ROSS

Lawrence Cecil Ross, life-long resident of Holloway district and ill for the past three years, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Saturday. His funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from Sidney Baptist Church, interment being in Guffin's Cemetery.

The late Mr. Ross was born at Holloway, 63 years ago, being the son of the late Allan Ross and Julia Marshall and has resided in that community all his life. He was a farmer and was well known and highly respected in the district. He was a member of Sidney Baptist Church and at the time of his death was a trustee in the church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Bessie Jane Spencer, two sons, Charles Cecil, of Stirling, and Richard Roy, of Holloway.

Wellman's W.A. And W.M.S.

The May meeting of Wellman's W.A. and W.M.S. was held at the home of Miss Emma and Mrs. John Rainie on May 2nd, with a good attendance.

Miss Delia Johnston, President of the W.A. presided and opened the meeting with the singing of the hymn, "Never Further Than the Cross." Miss Johnston read Psalm 116 and Meditation, "Living His Presence." Hymn, "Breath On Me Breath of God," was sung. Ways and means of making money was discussed. It was decided to have an afternoon tea and cooking sale and sale of aprons, towels, etc., on the afternoon of June 15th at the Rawdon Parsonage. The invitation was unanimously accepted. Mrs. B. Morton is to prepare the programme.

Mrs. Geo. Watson read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Clifford Clancy, Mrs. Clarence Dunham, Miss Delia Johnston and Miss Emma Rainie were appointed delegates to the W.A. Convention to be held at Holloway Street United Church on May 23rd. Mrs. Clifford Clancy and Ruth contributed a duet entitled, "Jesus Knows." Mrs. Clarence Dunham gave a reading entitled, "The Mother of Our Lord."

Mrs. Geo. Watson read a splendid paper on "Where Do You Live?" Mrs. John Rainie contributed a solo, "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me." It was decided to hold the next meeting on May 29th at the home of Mrs. Geo. Watson. The meeting was closed with singing of the hymn, "We have heard the joyful sound," and prayer.

The hostesses and assistants served lunch. Mrs. Clifford Clancy moved a vote of thanks for kind hospitality.

Married 65 Years

An 89-year-old New Hamburg man who once was known across Canada for his prowess on the lacrosse field, cannot repeat his performance of past years but he has a wife who remembers every detail of almost every game he played.

Andrew Hermiston, native of Otterville, played lacrosse for Cornwall when that town's team won the North American championship. He was a member of a Listowel team which won the Gerry district title in 1888.

Sixty-five years ago on May 11th, he was married at Listowel and his wife, Rachel, now 85, followed his lacrosse career as closely as she watched his business career.

From all over Western Ontario older residents still have words of commendation for the veteran lacrosse player who won plaudits for his outstanding success on the field. Mr. Hermiston was in business at Listowel for many years and his love of sport led him to make not only donations to athletic teams as well as to individuals who found life difficult.

Their 65th anniversary was celebrated at a family dinner prior to the date to enable a grandson Ross Jr., of R.C.N., to be present. Their only daughter, Mrs. Norma Hatter lives in New Hamburg. A year ago Mr. and Mrs. Hermiston moved from Grimbsy to New Hamburg. Their son Ross lives in Stirling. There are five grandsons.

Cards and flowers from the members of I.O.O.F. in Grimsby greeted the couple who through the years were honoured members.

St. Paul's WM.S.

The May meeting of St. Paul's Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society was held in the church parlor on the afternoon of the 8th, with Mrs. W. T. Elliott in charge. Owing to the lack of time the preliminary exercises were dispensed with and no business was transacted.

Mrs. V. Richardson, Temperance and Christian Citizenship Secretary, read a very fine paper on, "How we can work for peace — through helping to feed the hungry." She said in part, "It is difficult to convince Canadians — the best fed people in the world — that two-thirds of the world's population are under-nourished. Looking abroad we face the grim picture of political and social unrest, fermenting wherever hunger, poverty and disease exist. So many people in so many places have so few of the necessities of life that plenty of latent incentive lies ready to change the situation by violence if necessary. On the other hand, science can teach us all new ways of increasing food production; economics has something to say on better distribution. Our religious faith tells us why we should act and gives us the moral courage to do so. Taking food to the hungry is a responsibility of the Christian citizen and a constructive step toward peace among peoples."

Mrs. A. E. Good, Community Friendship Secretary, reported sixteen calls made by the Visiting Committee during the month.

Supply Secretary, Mrs. E. G. Bailey, reported the quota of work completed and sent in to headquarters. She also exhibited a pretty and cosy crib quilt or comforter, made and donated by Mrs. J. Currie, only remaining charter member of the Auxiliary, and who is in her 97th year. The quilt is made of 2½ inch squares of plain colors and figured flannelette and each square tied to the white back with colored wool. The work is beautifully done, and no doubt many lovely thoughts are worked in with the stitches.

The theme for the Worship service was "Love." Mrs. H. Hulin read the Scripture Lesson, St. Luke 2: 42-52, which records Mary's love and anxiety when Jesus was missing on the return trip from Jerusalem. Mrs. Elliott's comments on the theme stressed mother love.

Mrs. F. Jeffrey introduced the guests from Belleville, Mrs. Fred Wilson, 1st Vice President of Belleville Presbyterial; Mrs. G. Coulter and Mrs. Bell.

Mrs. Wilson gave a brief resume of the main address heard at the Branch meeting recently — "Measuring Advance." To meet with complete success, advance must be made in all departments of work.

Grace and Joan Heasman sang the duet, "This Is The Sabbath Day."

Mrs. Coulter, guest speaker, chose for her subject, "Jesus and His Love." Basing her remarks on the incidents recorded in St. Mark 2, she stressed the story of the rich young man who asked Jesus what he should do to inherit eternal life. Jesus said: 'Do you know the Commandments?" The young man replied that he had observed them from his youth. Jesus looked upon him, loved him and said to him, "you lack one thing; go sell all that you have and give it to the poor and you will have treasure in heaven, and come follow me." At that saying his countenance fell and he went away sorrowful; for he had great possessions.

"Do we keep the Commandments for what we may gain or do we obey them that others may benefit by our actions? If we have not become enough like Jesus to do the things he did and to like the things he liked, then like the rich young man, we too will turn away, for our possessions are such that we think we cannot give them up."

Mrs. Bell sang Eben H. Bailey's lovely old sacred song, "Abide With Us." Mrs. Bailey moved a vote of thanks to the guests for the pleasures they had given their listeners by address and song.

After the Mizpah Benediction a social half hour was enjoyed when the lunch comittee served a sup of tea and cookies.

Members of Queen's Alumni Enjoy Splendid Address By H. P. Gundy

Dinner Served By Ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Friday Last

A small, but exclusive and very friendly group of Queen's Alumni and their friends enjoyed a lovely dinner in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Friday, May 18th.

The ladies of St. Andrew's are to be congratulated for their most attractive tables and excellent food. Tricolour runners and red, yellow and blue tulips on every table were effective. The head table decorations consisted of three colours of tulips emerging from cedar beds and the red, yellow and blue candles grouped at intervals brought forth well-merited praise.

The Toast to University of Western Ontrio was proposed by Mr. S. Robb, of Belleville, and responded to in well-chosen remarks by Mr. Garrison. Stirling High School Staff.

Mr. Don Stirling, of Belleville Collegiate, proposed the toast to Toronto University. Dr. E. A. Carleton, of Stirling, responded with fitting reference to the task of all university graduates.

The President, Mr. Dies, of Belleville, proposed a toast to London, England, and Mrs. Elliott, of Kingston, replied in her very charming manner.

After the toast to Queen's, to which Dr. Cronk, of Belleville, replied, Mr. J. L. Good, of Stirling, most ably introduced the guest speaker, Mr. H. P. Gundy, of Kingston.

Mr. Gundy, a graduate from Toronto, Chicago, Mount Allison and Montreal, has, as Mr. Good expressed it, "now seen the light," and is custodian of Douglas Library, Queen's University. Mr. Gundy is a brilliant scholar, but has endeared himself to both faculty and students, so much so that he is lovingly referred to as "Pete" on the campus.

His address, "Pioneers in Journalism," gave some intriguing remembrances of early Canadian journalism. He had with him some 1847 editions of the Advocate Supplement, which he compared with present day issues. He ended on a high not with a roll of microfilm issues that may thus preserve some Canadian traditions.

Mr. Douglas Burr, on behalf of the audience, thanked Mr. Gundy for his excellent address.

Dr. Beach, of Frankford, thanked the ladies for their work in making that part of the evening a decided success. After a brief business meeting, a motion of adjournment was made.

Hit By Car

David Woods, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woods, Mill St., suffered minor injuries to his left leg when struck by a car on North Street about 5.30 p.m. Tuesday. The young lad was at play with several other boys on the sidewalk opposite the Bank of Montreal corner and dashed out into the street in the path of a car driven by D. Vardy. He was taken to the office of Dr. W. Cornett for treatment. No blame was attached to the driver of the car.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Murney McInroy, of Bonarlaw, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Mary Hazel, to Wm. Glenn Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morton. Marriage to take place on June 9th in St. Mark's Anglican Church.

Buried Here

Requiem mass was said at the Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, at 9 a.m. Monday with Rev. J. A. O'Neill officiating for Franklin Ketcheson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ketcheson of Forsyth St., Marmora. Burial followed in St. James' the Minor Cemetery, Stirling.

Franklin, who was 15 years of age, had been an invalid for the past eight years. His parents moved to Marmora from the Stirling district about a year ago.

St. Mark's W.A.

The May meeting of St. Mark's W.A. was held on Thursday afternoon last, at the home of Mrs. Jennie Wellman, with a good attendance.

The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Everett Heath. Mrs. George Mumby read the Scripture Lesson. The roll call, "a kind thought," was well responded to and several short poems on kind thoughts were read. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

After the business period, Mrs. Wellman gave her report on the Diocesan Annual. Mrs. Heath closed the meeting with prayer. Lunch was served by the hostess and a social half hour spent.

During the evening the guest of honour was presented with a coffee table by Mrs. Crown and Mrs. Carl Potter, on behalf of the guests, while Miss Rosa Spry made the presentation address. Miss Eggleton was also the recipient of numerous items of kitchen ware and very graciously thanked the donors for their lovely gifts.

Delectable refreshments and a social hour brought a happy event to a close.

Carmel Young Adult Association Held Inaugural Service Sunday

The Young Adult Association of Carmel United Church, Town Line, held their inaugural service on May 20th. Visitors from near and far overflowed the church and the Silver Jubilee Hall was more than three-quarters full. Those in the hall were enabled to hear the service by means of a loud speaker system installed and operated by Sherwood Reid, of Glen Ross.

The service opened at 8 p.m. with an instrumental prelude, followed by the call to worship, the National Anthem and the Doxology. The President of the Y.A.A., Russel Pyear, spoke warm words of welcome to all, and especially to Rev. A. M. Laverty, B.A., B.D., a former pastor, who is now Chaplain of Queen's University, Kingston, who was a padre in World War II. Russel recalled that Mr. Laverty had organized the Y.A.A. as then called the Young Married Class and later changed to the Y.A.A., in order to incorporate the single element of the community. The President also went on to tell how much of an inspiration Mr. and Mrs. Baker are to the group through their regular attendance and genuine interest in the affairs.

Hymn 17, "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven," was sung, followed by prayer by a member of the group, Mrs. Ross Hart. The anthem, "The Prayer of Thanksgiving," was rendered by the Junior Farmers Choir. The Scripture Lesson from the book of Daniel, was read by Rev. A. M. Laverty. Miss Jean Aylesworth sang a solo, "Come Unto Me," by Handel.

Announcements were made by Rev. A. E. Baker. The offering was gathered by Jimmy Hagerman, Frank Scott Bailey, Gerald Grills and George Wilson, all younger members of the group, assisted by Ray Hagerman and Ernest Grills in the Hall. The offering was dedicated by Mr. Baker. Hymn, 416, "Creations Lord, We Give Thee Thanks," was sung.

Rev. Baker introduced the guest speaker, Rev. A. M. Laverty, and thanked him for his kindness and thoughtfulness in visiting the sick from the Stirling Charge in Kingston Hospital.

Rev. Laverty based his sermon on the 23rd Chapter of Exodus, 2nd verse, "Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil." He said that most people follow the crowd but that each should make his own decision and stand on his own two feet and that in this day and age we need more moral courage and conviction. We are slaves of our age and no longer independent men and women. We are like white blotting paper waiting for the crowds approval, afraid to make a decision of our own in case the majority do not agree with us. If we would look to God as our guide and as a reinforcement for the believer, we need not fear what others think of us.

Rev. Laverty closed this challenging sermon by prayer. The Junior Farmer Choir sang, "Jacob's Ladder." With all their lovely voices it was very inspiring, as indeed were all their musical numbers and this group gives great promise of better things to come as they have a very capable leader in the person of Mrs. A. E. Baker, A.R.C.T.

Russel Pyear voiced the thanks of the Y.A.A. to Rev. A. M. Laverty, the Junior Farmer Choir, the ushers, the collection committee and the flower committee, Mesdames Elsie Hagerman and Mary Grills, who had so beautifully decorated the church and hall with seasonable flowers.

Hymn 568, "The Day Thou Gavest Lord Is Ended," was sung. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. A. E. Baker, followed by the Hebrew Benediction by the Junior Farm Choir.

At the close of the service the Junior Farmer Choir was invited to the Hall where they enjoyed a lunch served by the Y.A.A., under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Neal and Miss Marion Carlisle.

Mr. D. Harry, president of the choir conveyed their thanks, to which Miss Carlisle graciously replied.

Congratulations are extended Donald Wilson, son of Mr. Foster Wilson and the late Mrs. Wilson, of Stirling, R.R. 2, who is one of seven University of Toronto students, who will spend the summer as guests of the student body of the University of Helinski, in Finland.

On his return to Canada in September, Mr. Wilson plans to enter the University of Toronto.

Bethel W. A.

The monthly meeting of Bethel W. A. was held in the church hall on May 17th with fifteen members and three children present. At two thirty the President, Mrs. F. Laycock, called the meeting to order and opened with the theme song, followed with the hymn, "Jesus Calls Us O'er The Tumult." The President led in prayer.

Roll call was taken and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Scripture Reading, St. Mark, Chapter VI, was given by Mrs. E. McKeown. Lesson Thoughts on "Housing Shortage," was given by the President. Hymn, "I Need Thee Precious Jesus," was sung. Mrs. H. C. Vaclavik thanked the members of the W.A. for the crib quilt that had been given her little girls. Mrs. D. Heath and Mrs. W. Heath are to be the programme committee for the June meeting.

After the business had been dealt with a short programme followed, being in charge of Mrs. E. McMullen. Mrs. Don Heath opened the program by singing a very beautiful solo, "Have Thine Own Way Lord," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. Heath. Mrs. J. Warren gave a splendid reading entitled, "Creed for the Discouraged." Mrs. W. Heath gave a lovely piano solo, "In The Sweet By and By."

Mr. B. C. Tucker kindly consented to come to the meeting and tell of some of the interesting things he saw on his trip down south. He had some pictures and everyone enjoyed looking at them. He spoke of some of the churches which he had visited. The members of the W.A. enjoyed having Mr. Tucker come and talk to them. The meeting then adjourned.

The ladies served a very delicious afternoon tea. Mrs. F. Laycock tendered a vote of thanks to the speaker, the lunch committee and programme committee.

A Letter To The Editor

There appeared in your last week's edition an article regarding the corner stone of the present St. Andrew's Church having been laid by a Methodist Minister from Campbellford. This is true, but it was not in his capacity as such, but rather as a working grand officer of the Independent Order of Oddfellows under whose auspices the stone was laid, well and truly. It just so happened this officer was of this denomination and had nothing whatsoever to do with it.

The architect was the late Rev. J. M. Gray, the Minister at the time and the trowel was handed the officer by Miss Lottie Reynolds, now Mrs. Hamblin, of Peterborough.

The writer attended Sabbath School and services in the old Church, was present at the corner stone laying and am still

High Water Hinders Anglers In District

Conservation Officers caught up on patrol work during the week as side roads became passable. Water levels were high in many areas and hindered anglers in reaching favourite fishing haunts. Catches were reported as generally poor on opening day of the trout season, April 28th, and during the balance of the week.

Commercial hoopnet fishermen in the Bay of Quinte area enjoyed an excellent season with markets holding up well. Gill net operators also had some excellent success but catches of whitefish, herring and trout were largely incidental.

A Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:-

The following letter is addressed to you in the interests of the Army, Active and Reserve. I would appreciate it very much if you could find space to publish it in an early issue for the attention of your readers.

The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment was the name given to the amalgamation of two old county regiments at the end of World War I. The history of both these regiments is interwoven with that of the Counties of Prince Edward and Hastings. I believe Captain Meyers had a hand in forming the first company and U.E. Loyalists undoubtedly were among the first recruits for the two units. Elements of the Regiments fought in all the wars in which Canada had a part and in World War II became famous under the combined name of Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

The plan for the formation of the 27th Brigade recognizes the prestige of this unit in the district and in Army Headquarters. Along with a number of other regiments famous in World War II, it has been named as the Infantry Unit in Eastern Ontario for which two companies are to be formed.

The first week of recruiting has been very successful from the point of view of numbers passing through our Regimental Recruiting Stations. The Reserve Battalion has contributed a very large proportion and the remainder are, to a great extent, ex-servicemen. Recruiting officers have been struck by the fact that the young men of 18 to 24 are apparently not attracted. These men must join if we are to maintain an Army under the voluntary system.

If citizens of our two home counties fully realized the lack of armed forces in Canada, they would be better aware of the urgent need for enlistments in this 27th Brigade. Canada has not sufficient strength at present, by herself, to put up more than token resistance to an invader. She cannot take her place on an equal footing with her colleagues in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

I would like to stress these facts to all our Prince Edward and Hastings people. The need for enlistments in our Army is urgent if we are to have an army at all. The need for an Army is vital to our existence and prestige as a nation.

Regardless of the urgency of the situation, Army life offers the young man a great deal — good pay, comradeship, travel and a trade if he wishes, even if peace were assured would be a great boon to the nation. For the development of character, physical health and mental self-discipline, there is nothing to compare with it.

In concluding I urge: Let us fill the gaps in our defences — join the 27th Brigade now. If unavoidable home responsibilities tie them, let young men join the reserve Battalion. Either way they will help to MAKE CANADA STRONG.

Yours respectfully,
J. M. Porritt Lt. Col.,
Officer Commanding
The Hastings & Prince Edward Regiment (Reserve Army)

Civil Defense On County Basis

Expansion of Ontario's civil defense organization was annouced today by Hon. Arthur Welsh, Provincial Civil Defense Co-ordinator.

A letter has been sent to all mayors, reeves and county wardens stating that civil defense planning has progressed to the point where organization would assure that municipalities within the county can plan for civil defense on a mutual aid basis."

Col. Welsh said no municipalities could be expected to provide the necessary civil defense service required for adequate protection againt fire, etc., in the event an enemy air attack, without assistance from surrounding municipalities.

"Since municipalities may urgently require help from surrounding communities, it is now felt advisable that a mutual aid plan be worked out on a county basis," he said.

"We are recommending that the largest urban centre within the county accept the leadership in county planning, and that a meeting be called of representatives from all communities, and a county Civil Defense committee be formed to co-ordinate the Civil Defense committees already existing within the county, and to encourage the formation of committees where these do not exist.

"It is suggested that rural communities, which have not already formed Civil Defense committees co-operate with their county council and complete plans for a co-ordinated effort, so if called upon to receive evacuees from target areas, the necessary plans will be in existence.

"When arrangements have been completed for a county meeting, personnel from the Civil Defense Branch of the Provincial Secretary's Department will be available to attend and render assistance in overall planning if required."

Wonder drugs are in the news these days. Unfortunately no one has yet discovered any drug that can replace parts of the body lost in traffic accidents. The only cure: prevent accidents before they happen, by using extra caution, courtesy and common sense.

The cost of living is still going up. But it can go up faster still for people who fail to avoid accidents on the streets and highways.

Centennial Committee

The Minister was elected chairman of the Centennial Committee last Monday. R. A. Patterson was elected Treasurer and Mrs. Patterson Secretary. Members of the congregation and readers of the News-Argus are invited to assist in the following ways:

(1) Please send or advise Mrs. Patterson of the names and addresses of all former attendants at the Methodist and United Churches of Stirling as well as the names of all former residents who were interested in the general work of the village.

(2) Search family albums and family pictures and snap shots of all persons now or formerly related to St. Paul's. Mark your name and address on same and loan to the community for Centennial Year.

(3) It is hoped to include half-tone pictures of heads of families and family groups where desired on share-the-cost basis. No family will therefore be left out which is sufficiently interested to pay a part of the cost of production.

(4) $178 which included $13 given exclusively for the floor during the Self Denial and special Easter offering appeal was authorized to be paid to the Trustee Board for the floor account. The total Self Denial receipts were $281.67. The expenses were $24.50 for printing etc. and the net returns were shared on the basis of 75% for the floor fund and 25% to the Centennial Committee. The special gifts of $13 for the floor were paid to the Trustee Board over and above the 75%.

(5) Each society in the church is to form a Centennial Committee to secure full information from the earliest beginnings of its work including officers, amounts raised and special projects. It is expected that the expense of printing such reports beyond the space allocated by the Committee will be paid for by such societies.

(6) The Vice-Chairman will be elected at the next meeting in the Fall.

(7) Mrs. Roy Bush has been given the responsibility and exacting task of compiling general over all records of information for a Centennial Scrap Book. Please send your clippings and reports to Mrs. R. Bush, R.R. 4, Stirling.

Rural Letter Boxes

Have you painted your letter box yet? The Ontario Intellingencer, Belleville, recently contained an editorial pointing out that the Junior Farmers of Essex were engaged in a letter box face-lifting programme at the border. Hastings County, the home of so many prosperous farmers, mostly descendants of the United Empire Loyalists, should not take second place to any.

Who will win the silver dollar award for the best painted box on your Stirling rural route?

Sunday School Anniversary

Sunday, June 3rd will be marked by the Anniversary Service of St. Paul's Sunday School. Rev. Boyd Beckel, of Ivanhoe, an old Stirling boy, will be the guest preacher. Let us make it a wonderful day by the whole family going to church. Harold Hagerman is the Sunday School Supt.

It cost 9½ cents per pupil per Sunday to operate St. Paul's Sunday School in 1950. As the ordinary offerings are not sufficient to meet this expense a shower of dollars or such gifts as may be possible will be welcomed on Anniversary Sunday.

26th U.C. Anniversary

The 26th Anniversary of the United Church of Canada will fall on the exact anniversary date, June 10th.

At St. Paul's-Carmel this will be marked by the observance of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper and the Annual special appeal for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. We have only forwarded $400 to date this year and our allocation is about four times that amount.

It is now the policy of the church to take up this appeal in June rather than December when family claims tax the purse for Christmas.

Our Missionary and Maintenance Committee is very grateful for the splendid support given in 1950 and invites everyone to examine their Church Report and give as much and more if possible than the 1950 amount in 1951.

Universities Are Forced To Raise Their Fees

University of Toronto has announced an increase in student fees for the next term, beginning in the fall. This announcement followed by only a few days a similar one from Queen's University in Kingston where students face a 15 per cent boost in tuition fees next semester. Other Canadian universities are likely to keep in line with this trend and increase their fees in proportion to their financial requirements.

There has been a steady climb in the cost of university education since the end of the Second World War and there is no sign of an end to this upward revision. Universities in Canada have had to cope with rising costs, attributable in a large degree to increased salaries for professors. In order to retain the services of faculty members, the universities have had to pay salaries which would serve as an inducement for professors, lecturers, etc., to remain at their posts. In doing this, the colleges have had to contend with competition created by United States universities which pay considerably more money to men and women on their staffs.

Rising administrative costs, along with a declining interest rate on endowment, are other factors which universities must take in to consideration in making upward adjustments in tuition fees.

Despite the fact the cost of a university education still is rising, there is an increasing need for more doctors, engineers, teachers and other people with college training. For many potential college graduates the increased tuition cost is an obstacle which in many cases cannot be overcome. It would appear therefore that Federal aid to the universities, a request that has been voiced frequently in recent years by college heads, is the only logical solution to the problem created by increasing student fees. If assistance is not forthcoming from some source, many young men and women will be obliged to forego university training and will embark on careers in which they would be less useful to their country. — Cornwall Standard-Freeholder.

Plant 51 Million Pickerel In Suitable Waters

The distribution of eyed pickerel eggs was completed by the end of the week. Some 51 million taken by the Glenora Fish Hatchery staff during recent spawn taking operations, were distributed to suitable inland lakes and the Bay of Quinte.

Speckled trout yearlings from the White Lake Hatchery are also being planted in lakes and streams as quickly as Departments of Lands and Forests trucks can transport them. Large and small mouth parent bass are being held at the White Lake station to be placed in the ponds for nesting as soon as the young trout are out.

Aircraft Used For Fish and Wildlife Control

Department officials continued aircraft patrols over Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River on May 3rd. One of the new Lands and Forests Beaver aircraft was used for the flight piloted by "Hap" Hoar, and the party included Fish and Wildlife Inspectors Royal Baker and R. G. Shepard of the Rideau and Quinte districts and A. W. Leman, District Forester at Tweed.

A commercial fisherman spotted close to the International boundry near the Main Duck Islands, was checked on the water and information obtained on the yardage and mesh size being used.

The patrol extended as far east as Prescott and further flights will be made from time to time to investigate illegal fishing and waterfowl concentrations.

Anniversary Services

Members of the United Church at West Huntingdon set a new record on Sunday, when instead of having the annual anniversary service in the autumn, when most of the churches are having anniversaries, thus causing considerable confusion, the people here held a most inspiring and successful service on Sunday, with both the morning and the evening services were conducted by Rev. Gordon McKenzie, of Queensboro.

Mr. McKenzie brought wonderful inspiring messages that were much appreciated by the large congregations. The choir under the leadership of Mrs. W. Grant, with Mrs. Geo. Ashley as pianist rendered several fine Anthems and at the evening service Mrs. Grant contributed a solo. The church was suitably decorated with many potted plants and blossoms.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fitchett included Mr. and Mrs. Ken Thompson and Maureen and Mrs. Robert Gay, of Belleville, Miss Donna Gray and Miss Bessie Hollinger and Grant, Davenport, and H. R. Burke, of Fuller.

Mr. Geo. Post was in Ottawa this week. He was chosen by the Rotary Club of Stirling and the Stirling High School. While there with other students across Canada visited the House of Commons while in session, called upon His Excellency the Governor General, Lord Alexander and Vicountess at Government House. He also had the honour of meeting many of the Cabinet Ministers and received a certificate of Canadian Citizenship, presented by the Prime Minister the Rt. Hon. Louis St Laurent. In addition to this the group visited many of the important places in the capital city. We congratulate George on having been selected by his schoool for this very helpful and interesting trip.

Mrs. Peter McInroy has returned home from Port Colbourne where she spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. M. Longwell. On her return she received the sad news of the death of her sister, Mrs. D. Barrons, Cordova. The funeral service was held on Monday and Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy and Mrs. McInroy attended the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson and sons were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wright on Sunday.

Anniversary guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ashley included Mr. and Mrs. Burton Wallace, of Menie; Miss Mary Chambers, of Stirling and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Fargey and Nancy.

Mrs. William Bray and Mrs. Lottie Vanderwater spent Sunday with Miss Sarah Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sarles attended the funeral services for Mrs. Mary Bird, at Madoc on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Bird was well known by a large number of people. She lived in this community a number of years ago. The sympathy of a host of friends goes out to the bereaved family.

Mr. W. Tanner, of Belleville, has purchased the dwelling on Front St. from Mr. Sid Ellicott and will take up residence in the very near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones, of Thomasburgh, attended the Anniversary Services at the United Church and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Spencer.

Sarah and Arthur Wilson attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Powell, of Frankford, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wright and son, of Campbellford, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Wright.

Mrs. Sandy McCurdy, Joan and Donald, of Foxboro, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McCurdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy and Mrs. Peter McInroy were guests on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Twiddy when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mumby were honoured guests on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Endeavours Class

The Endeavours Class held their monthly meeting for May in the Church on Thursday evening with a good attendance of members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Spencer made the arrangements for the fine evening's programme which consisted of musical selections and readings from friends from Mount Pleasant. Those taking part in the programme included a solo by Mrs. Marguerite McMullen; duets by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Summers; piano solo by Miss Betty McConnell, and readings by Mrs. Percy MacMullen. Mount Pleasant is to be congratulated on having such a variety of talented entertainers. Their contribution to the programme was greatly appreciated.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Roscoe Robson, M.P.P., who brought a most helpful message, dwelling on our attidude towards those in authority over us.

The appreciation of the class to those assisting on the programme was voiced by Mr. Alex McCurdy. The President, Mrs. Mac Sarles was assisted in the worship service by Rev. M. Clarke offering prayer and Mr. Philip Carr conducting the Scripture Reading. Mrs. Eric Summers was chairman for their part of the program and following the benediction, lunch was served.

On Trip To Finland

Congratulations are in order to our mutual friend Mr. Donald B. Wilson, who was successful in his fourth year studies at O.A.C., Guelph. The graduation ceremonies were held on Wednesday of this week. Donald was denied the privilege of attending due to his having to leave on Monday for an extended trip to Finland. So once again we have to congratulate him for having been chosen along with eleven other Canadian students to represent the International Student Service. His trip will be of great benefit to him in his future work. He will not return until September, when he will enter a university for one more year of study.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

THE MIXING BOWL

BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! The other day a friend of mine opened her purse and out dropped a number of things including a penny. A compact and comb were retrieved along with the Hydro bill as the penny rolled in the grass. Mrs. D. replied "Never mind it's only one cent." However as we drove along the highway we recalled how much housework we had accomplished before setting out. It was Mrs. D. who, in one morning, had vacuumed six floors, pressed a suit, mended a rip in a pair of overalls, made a gelatine salad and served two cups of tea using her new electric kettle. For the other jobs she had used electric equipment too, the cost of operating all these appliances throughout the morning was the same amount left in the grass — one penny!

Truly, we should be grateful that these services are billed to us after we have had the advantage of the use of Hydro with 10 days grace to receive a discount. With this in mind we should pick up our pennies and pay within this given period. My father always said, "Take care of the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves."

TAKE A TIP

1. Defrost the electric refrigerator when the frost becomes pencil thick. This is usually every two weeks. Turn on the refrigerator as quickly as possible after cleaning. This saves the motor from working overtime to establish the normal temperature required to keep foods fresh.
2. If a normal temperature is not being maintained as indicated by the use of a refrigerator thermometer (that is 40 degrees in centre of cabinet), then call a serviceman.
3. When an oily aroma permeates the refrigerator cabinet at this time of year it may be due to the fresh oranges of the juicy type. During May and November it is advisable to store oranges and grapefruit along the walls of the cabinet.
4. If the refrigerator dial has not been turned to freezing for at least 1 hour before trays of ice cream mix are to be placed in the unit, ice crystals will develop in the dessert. This may be partially prevented by covering trays with foil or waxed paper. By the way, excessive amounts of sugar in the dessert prevent fast freezing and ingredients should be carefully measured.
5. Damage to the porcelain of a refrigerator may result from a crash by a kiddie car or sharp object. A small chipped portion may be patched using porclain enamel paint, purchased from an electrical shop. Follow directions on the can of paint.
6. The motor of the electric refrigerator should be cleaned occasionally. A vacuum cleaner attachment makes this job easy.
7. Foods stored in the refrigerator keep well if in good condition. Let hot foods become cool, then cover and place in the refrigerator so that air may circulate on all sides of the dish. Sort foods out everytime the unit is defrosted.
8. Dishes of food should only be stacked if thoroughly chilled or if food has been frozen in freezing unit and is being kept frozen.
9. Wrap all strong flavored foods such as cut melons. Berries should not be washed until just before they are to be served. Very ripe berries will keep for several days if arranged loosely on a tray or plate.
10. Fresh meats should be unwrapped and placed in meat keeper. If the piece is too large and has to be placed on a plate, covered with wax paper.
11. If ice cubes have an unpleasant taste the trays should be emptied and washed in warm water to which baking soda has been added. Rinse twice in cold water.

THEQUESTION BOX

Mrs. T. B. asks: for directions making a Banana Whip so that mixture does not darken?

Answer:

Banana Whip

3 well-ripened bananas
¼ cup orange juice
Juice of 1 lemon
½ cup sugar
Few grains of salt
1 cup whipping cream or evaporated milk

Peel and mash bananas with stainless steel fork or wooden masher. Add fruit juices, sugar and salt. Stir well and chill 10 minutes in electric refrigerator. Fold in partially-whipped cream. Pour into a freezing tray and set it on the bottom of the refrigerator unit. Yield: approximately one quart.

Mrs. R. P. asks for Chocolate Ice Cream recipe that is not too sweet.

Answer:

Chocolate Ice Cream

2 teaspoons gelatine
¼ cup cold water
2 squares bitter chocolate
½ cup confectioner's sugar
1 cup milk
Pinch of salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 1-3 cups whipping cream or evaporated milk

Soften gelatine in water (5 mins.). Melt chocolate over the low heat of your range. Add sugar and blend thoroughly. Add milk gradually. Bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add gelatine and salt. Chill in electric refrigerator until thickened. Beat well with a rotary beater. Add vanilla and fold in partially-whipped cream. Pour into a freezing tray and set it on the bottom of the freezing unit. Have the temperature control to coldest point for freezing.

Fire Hazards Mount Quickly In Quinte District

After several weeks of cool showery weather, warm sunny days quickly dried out the dead vegetation and the fire danger increased from medium to high.

Seven fires were reported and brought under control by rangers during the week, fortunately without much loss. All were in the patrol stage by the week-end. The blazes occurred in the following townships: Lake, Lavant, Lyndoch, Bagot, Monteagle, Faraday and McClure, four of them attributed to careless campers and three by settlers burning debris and dead grass without a fire permit. Police investigations were made in several cases and charges are being laid under Section 7 (3) of the Forest Fires Prevention Act where burning was carried out without permit authority.

Officials point out that no burning permits are being issued until new growth is well advanced and the hazard drops. The Lydoch fire is a good example of what can happen. Some 70 acres burned over during the early evening and gave the rangers a hard fight before being brought under control at 1.00 a.m. Regulations require that no fires may be set in the Fire District between April 1st and October 31st except for cooking or obtaining warmth, without a buring permit.

Going along with our best wishes to the trout fishermen here's a little reminder on the simple precautions that often save fires:

Before building a campfire, scrape away all leaves, twigs, dry grass or other inflammable material from a spot at least five feet in diameter. Dig a hole in teh centre and build the fire in the hole on mineral soil or rock. Keep the fire small and be careful never to build it against a tree, old logs or near brush.

Don't leave the campfire until you're sure it's dead out. Extinguish it by stirring the coals while soaking with plenty of water and then wet the ground around so there's no doubt the last spark is out.

Smoking materials should be carefully extinguished before throwing them away. Cigarette and cigar butts, pipe ashes and matches are often to blame and should never be tossed into brush, leaves or pine needles.

BE FREE FROM HELP PROBLEMS
Mechanize with Massey-Harris Machines

Manpower is not too plentiful—in fact good, experienced farm help is downright scarce even at the present high wage rates. Industry needs manpower for armament production and making of civilian goods and the armed forces are recruiting to bring their units up to strength in the new program.

Yet food production must be maintained in these busy and critical times in spite of the shortage and high cost of farm help.

Mechanization is helping more and more farmers to get work done when it should be done—farmers are proving easy-operating, fast-working machinery to be their most dependable help. From the complete line of Massey-Harris equipment you can select machines that will help you master the help problem.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

CANADIAN LIVESTOCK TO MEXICO

Seven carloads of Canadian livestock recently left for Mexico. Included were dairy cattle, horses, pigs, sheep and pheasants. The animals were selected by Dr. Figueroa of the Mexican Department of Agriculture, some of them being for private breeders and others for the Mexican government.

The largest livestock group consisted of 56 head of purebred Holsteins, largely bred and open heifers. Two high class bulls headed this shipment, one being a son of Glenafton Futurity from Jas. T. Brown, Newcastle, Ont. Futurity was All-Canadian Bull Calf in 1948 and was Reserve All-Canadian in 1949 and 1950. The other bull was Pioneer Lodge Pathfinder secured from Jas. T. Beaton, Hamilton, Ont. This bull is by a son of the noted Montvic Pathfinder and is out of Pioneer Lodge Aggie Pontiac who is the World Champion milk producer in the senior three year old class of the 365 day division on twice-a-day milking with her record of 26,083 lbs. milk containing 889 lbs. fat and has a seven lactation lifetife total all on 2x of 147,911 lbs. milk containing 5237 lbs. fat. Her dam in turn is a Gold Seal producer with her eleven lacation 2x lifetime record of 189,773 lbs. milk containing 6,867 lbs. fat.

Forty eight of the Holstein heifers went to Jose Garcia Valseca, Queretaro, Mexico, while six of them went to Dr. Lauro Ortega, Mexico City. Dr. Ortega personally visited Canada to select these animals.

The balance of the shipment consisted of Percheron horses, Yorkshire pigs, Suffold rams, Guernsey and Ayrshire cattle and fourteen pheasants.

Assisting in the selection and shipment of the animals was Hays Limited, Oakville, Ontario.

NUMBER OF FARMS WITH ELECTRIC POWER

A complete count of the farms in Canada having wind electric outfits, gasoline outfits and obtaining power from electric power lines will be made in the 1951 Census of Agriculture to be taken in June. The information on electric power will provide a useful guide to the development that has taken place in this respect in rural homes and to the potential further expansion of power facilities.

Electricity adds greatly to the comfort of farm homes, with the provision of refrigeration and aids to production in the form of water pumps, milking machines, feed grinders and motors for other uses, as well as its use for lighting and for many labour-saving conveniences in the household. The number of farms having electricity has been growing steadily in the last few years, after the slowing up in the extension of power services during the war years.

Ten years ago, according to the 1941 Census, about 140,000 farm dwellings, approximately one-fifth of the total number, had electric light. In 1947 central electric stations listed 169,518 farm customers. Added to this figure would be a number with electric service from home plants and from other sources. In 1949, it is estimated, 226,000 farms in seven provinces received power from power commissions, power companies or co-operative power services.

Ontario and Quebec have shown the greatest advance in rural power services and extensions are taking place each year. Rapid growth is also occurring in some other provinces. Manitoba has a construction program to serve 5,000 new customers annually.

COUNT OF LIVE STOCK NUMBERS IN THE 1951 CENSUS

A count of all live stock in Canada, both on farms and off farms, will be made in the 1951 Agriculture Census, to be taken in June.

wethers one year old and over, lambs under one year, and rams.

In addition to live stock numbers, farmers will be asked the quantity of Farmers will be asked how many, mares, geldings, colts and fillies and stallions they have. In cattle, the questions will cover cows two years and over and one to two years, kept for milk and for beef purposes; steers one year and over; calves under one year; and bulls one year and over. There will be two questions for hogs — the number over and the number under six months old. For sheep, there will be three categories — ewes and butter and cheese made on the farm in 1950 and the number of live stock sold off the farm and slaughtered on the farm, both for sale and home use, in the year 1950.

The information obtained through the Census questions is extremely useful to determine the total production of livestock. Each year the Dominion Bureau of Statistics makes an estimate of numbers of live stock at June 1st and again at December 1st, and also estimates the production for the year. These annual estimates are based on the census data and it is essential to have a census "bench-mark" at regular intervals in order to provide accurate.

About June 1st this year, when the Census enumerators are starting their rounds, farmers will be receiving as usual through the mail the regular June survey questionnaire that is sent out by the Bureau for use in its semi-annual estimates of live stock and acreages sown to crops. The questionnaire is shorter than the census schedule but contains similar questions, and farmers may wonder why there is this duplication. The chief reason is that the information on crop acreages and live stock numbers is needed as early as possible and that it can be supplied by the estimates, using the data obtained through the questionnaire, long before the data from the census schedules can be supplied. When the census figures become available — which will not be before early in 1952 — they will be accepted for the census year and become the base for subsequent estimates. The coincidence of the survey questionnaire with the census enumeration also enables a direct comparison to be made of results by both methods and thus facilitates improvements in the annual estimates.

Households and Dwellings

Every fifth householder in Canada will be asked a number of key questions about households and dwellings when the Decennial Census of Canada is taken in June. At that time information will be obtained on types of dwellings, principal exterior materials, condition of the exterior and tenure. Questions will also be asked about lighting and heating equipment, water supply, plumbing, and cooking and refrigeration facilities.

The data obtained in the census will be of value to those concerned with the planning and development of expanding communities and the remodelling of older ones. Manufacturers of building materials, contractors and individual home-owners will find the figures of interest and value. Besides these more obvious uses of census of housing data, the information is an important yardstick in measuring the social and economic progress of the Canadian people.

Recent years have witnessed a tremendous residential building boom in Canada. Since the Census of 1941 there has been an estimated increase of 654,000 households, but the average size of households has declined from 4.2 persons in 1941 to 3.9 in 1949, an indication that the size of families is not as large as it was and that fewer families are "doubling up."

There were 338,336 new dwelling units constructed in Canada during the five years from 1945 to the end of 1949, and an additional 28,303 units were created by conversions of existing structures. Of the dwelling units constructed during the five-year period, 272,230 were one-family detached, 25,024 were two-family detached, 3,440 were in rows or terraces, and 33,165 were in apartments or flats.

The 1941 Census revealed that the single house was the predominant type of dwelling in rural areas in all parts of Canada, and in western Canada more than three-quarters of urban dwellings were also of this type. Only in the urban centres of the Province of Quebec, where apartments and flats were most numerous, did the single house constitute a minor proportion of all dwellings. On the other hand, the semi-detached or so-called "double" was uncommon in western Canada. It formed an important proportion of all homes only in the urban parts of Ont. and the Maritime Provinces.

In 1941 virtually all dwellings in the Maritime Provinces were of wood construction. This was true also of rural areas in other parts of Canada, excepting Ontario, and, to a lesser extent, of the urban centres in the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. In contrast, three out of every five dwellings in urban and Quebec were built of brick, and in urban Quebec about 10 per cent were of stone. Stucco houses were not common in eastern Canada but in the Prairie Provinces they outnumbered brick houses by some 4,000. The stucco house was most common in British Columbia. In the urban centres of that province, 19 per cent of all homes were constructed principally of stucco.

Bette Beacock Becomes Bride of Merritt Gordon of Montreal

The marriage took place in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Peterboro, on Saturday, May 19th, of Bette Geraldine, daughter of Mr. James Clifton Beacock and the late Mrs. Beacock to Mr. Merritt Edward Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gordon, of Vancouver, B.C. The Rev. C. G. Boyd officiated.

The church was decorated with standards of ferns and the music was played by Mr. Christopher Gledhill. Before the ceremony Mrs. Ross Williamson sang "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte and during the signing of the register "All Joy Be Thine," by Sanderson.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she wore a gown of white baronet satin, with mandarin neckline, long sleeves coming to points over the hands, a bodice and peplum of Alencon lace and the skirt sweeping into a full circular train. Her long flowering veil was of French imported illusion, appliqued in gardenias and caught to side clusters of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias.

The three attendants were Mrs. Donald E. Anderson as matron-of-honour and Misses Dorothy Allan and Eleanor Jobbitt as bridesmaids. The matron-of-honour wore pigeon blue crepe with azure bugle bead trim. The bridesmaids were in ballerina length frocks of imported pink lace over grey taffeta. Headdresses of the three attendants were bandeaux of pink lilacs and they wore matching mittens. Cascades of butterfly roses and white sweet peas completed their ensembles.

The groomsman was Mr. Donald E. Anderson and the ushers were Messrs. Roy Dougans, James Gordon, Harold Barnett and John Boa.

The reception was held at the Kawartha Country Club, Peterboro, where the bride's aunt, Miss Myrtle Beacock, Toronto, received, wearing a gown of topaz crepe with matching bolero of lace, her hat, a New York model of brown velvet with whisp of veiling. Her accessories were brown and she wore a corsage of white gardenias. She was assisted by Mrs. Mabel Louden with whom the bride has made her home for a number of years. Mrs. Louden chose a gown of grey nylon lace and a Yoffe model hat of pink milan with pink lilac trim. Her accessories were pink and she wore a corsage of butterfly roses.

The bride and groom will honeymoon in the United States, the former travelling in a gold and black gabardine suit with matching linen hat and black accessories and wearing a gardenia corsage.

On their return they will reside at 1285 Quimet Street, Apt. 26, Montreal.

June Agricultural Survey, 1951

About June 1st, farmers will be receiving through the mail a questionnaire from the Agriculture Division of the Bureau of Statistics. This is the regular June survey of crops and live stock undertaken annually in co-operation with provincial agricultural agencies. Commencing June 1st farmers will also be visited by an enumerator in connection with the decennial census of agriculture. The information for the June survey is needed even though a census is being undertaken this year.

The chief reason for this need is that it will not be possible to assemble and add all the census schedules before the early part of 1952. Current estimates of acreages sown to field crops must be calculated and published before the end of July this year. Information on live stock numbers and disposition is also needed at an early date. Therefore, farmers are urged to complete the usual June questionnaire in addition to the census schedule so that the regular annual statistical work may be carried out.

Statistics obtained from the annual survey are used extensively throughout the year by government departments, farm organizations and industry. International bodies, such as the World Food and Agricultural Organizations, depend on the Bureau to supply up-to-date figures on Canada's agricultural industry. The farmer, through his responses to the questionnaires sent out by the Bureau, has a real opportunity to help form a true picture of agriculture conditions and it is in his own interests to do so.

The survey has no connection with taxation. The farmer's individual forms are kept strictly confidential.

Stirling Public School Board Makes Requisition To Council For $3750

Purchase of Text Books and Supplies Authorized — Teachers Re-engaged

A requisition for $3750.00 will be made to the Stirling Council by the Public School Board for 1951, following Monday night's regular meeting of the Board. This decision was reached after careful study of estimated receipts and expenditures, under the leadership of finance chairman R. A. Patterson, and reduces last year's requisition by $2750.

Chairman R. E. Fox presided and was supported by Messrs. R. A. Patterson, H. Donnan, C. I. Hatton, H. R. Tompkins and Dr. E. A. Carleton.

Principal W. D. C. Hall addressed the Board relative to the purchase of the text books, authorized by the Department of Education on the basis of $3 per pupil for average attendance. In addition he requested the purchase of music books and extra supplies for Grade I. The Government grant on the approved text books is 100% and is paid on submission of invoices by the local Board.

On motion of Messrs. H. R. Tompkins and R. A. Patterson the purchase of the various text books and added supplies was authorized.

Mr. Hall also drew the attention of the Board to the lack of facilities in the school desks in some of the Grades for ink wells, and asked for a supply of softballs and bats. These matters were left in the hands of the Property Committee.

Teachers Accepted Re-Engagement

H. R. Tompkins, chairman of the Teachers' Committee, reported that all members of the Public School Staff had accepted re-engagement at the Board's offer of a $200 increase, and the Secretary had their written acceptances and contracts.

C. I. Hatton, Chairman of the Property Committee, reported the purchase of a supply of oil and the sale of a number of the seats from the old school.

R. A. Patterson presented the following accounts for payment:

Mrs. Wells, supply teaching, $40.00; Geo. Browning, trucking, $10.00; Library Books, $179.57; S. R. McCrory, $30.00; D. M. Sine, $7.50; Hermiston's, $8.35; Noble's, $7.85; Vocational Guidance, 83c.

Open House At High School

"Open House" in Stirling High School on Wednesday night of last week drew a large crowd of parents and interested citizens of the village and district. The visitors were welcomed by Principal J. L. Good and Mrs. G. Bailey. Displays of shop work and Home Economics were the centre of attraction, while the Science Department where the electric eye, Babcock Test, etc., were being demonstrated, also drew its quota of spectators. A film on fishing was shown by Mr. D. Garrison, while Miss W. Hay was in charge of registration.

The convention convened on Sunday with an attendance of over 12,000 and concludes today (Thursday). Messrs. Bird and Noble were accompanied by their wives.

Engagement

Mr. Raymond Chambers, of Stirling, announces the engagement of his only daughter, Mary Ellen, to Russell Harford, elder son of Mrs. J. C. Sills and the late Mr. Sills, of West Huntingdon. The marriage will take place early in June.

Ordained

Among those ordained into the ministry of the United Church at the Bay of Quinte Conference in Sydenham United Church, Kingston, last night was Carman Beckel, son of Mrs. Beckel and the late Rev. J. E. Beckel, formerly of Stirling, and the Rawdon Circuit. Rev. Boyd Beckel, of the Ivanhoe is a brother.

Miss Marion Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Daniels, of Foxboro, was designated as a Deaconness. She will be assistant to the Minister in Orillia.

STIRLING FESTIVAL OF SACRED PRAISE MONDAY, JUNE 4th

LOCAL SOFTBALLERS LOSE TO WOOLER IN 5-4 THRILLER

Stirling's Trent Valley League team met defeat in their opening game of the season at Wooler on Monday night by a score of 5-4 after a nine-inning struggle. It was a neat pitching duel betwen Barney McColl for the homesters and Rodgers on the Stirling firing line and was a 4-4 ball game until two men were out in the ninth inning.

Wooler scored in the first and second inning but were held scoreless until the seventh when they added two to tie the score. The winning tally came in the ninth.

Stirling tallied one in the first and three in the third to take a 4-2 lead but failed to hold their advantage.

Austin, of Wooler, connected for a triple for the only extra base blow of the game.

The batteries were: Stirling — Rodgers and J. Wright; Wooler — McColl and Steacy.

Lawn Bowlers Open 1951 Season

Pot Luck Supper Enjoyed At The Bowling Green On Monday Night Last

The opening guns for the bowling season of the local Lawn Bowling Club were fired on Monday evening last. The activities of the evening commenced with a pot luck supper at 6.30 p.m. served by the ladies section of the club. Everything that could be desired graced the tables and those present did ample justice. There was a fine attendance of the club members as well as a goodly number of prospective members.

After the supper a number of games took place on the green and from the showing of the new and prospective bowlers the older members of the club had better "smarten up" else they will find themselves among the "also ran."

Both sections of the club are under excellent leadership with Miss Rosa Spry as President of the ladies' section and Mr. Douglas Patterson, as leader of the men's section. The greens are in excellent condition considering the early start of the season. Mr. Thomas Kerr is again greenskeeper, so we are assured that the green will always be in good condition as far as is humanly possible.

The club welcomes all prospective members. There is an ample supply of bowls, so if you want to enjoy an evening to the fullest extent, come up and try out the greatest game in this world.

Notes

Fred Mallory is as active as ever, but he is going to have difficulty if he expects to keep pace with his son Ray. The Stirling Club (ladies section) welcomes to its membership, Mrs. John Johnston, a former member of North Toronto Club.

Games will be played every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, so let us see you there.

Receiving the hundred guests with the couple were Miss Mildred Mumby, of Toronto, and J. B. Belshaw, of Stirling, attendants of fifty years ago.

After the usual congratulations, Rev. B. Beckel called the gathering to order and proposed the toast to the bride. Mr. Mumby responded in his usual good form referring to many pleasant happenings in their married life.

Mr. Belshaw responded to the toast to the bridesmaid of fifty years, recalling the bye gone years. Keith Twiddy, grandson, read an address, and the couple were presented with many beautiful and varied gifts. A programme of music, readings and short addresses was given by a number of their friends.

A lace covered dining room table was centred with a tiered wedding cake, suitably decorated, and gold colored candles and tulips. His condition is reported as favourable and it is expected that he will be brought home in a few days.

Softball Here Friday Night

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Softball season in Stirling tomorrow (Friday) night when Campbellford will be the opposition for Stirling in their first home game in the Trent Valley League.

The locals dropped a close game to Wooler on Monday night and are determined to break into the win column against their old rivals from the hydro town. Practically all the old players, including Rodgers, Dafoe, Montgomery, Bastedo, Lanigan and others, along with some new faces, go to make a smart aggregation. The visitors copped a win over Frankford Monday and are said to be a classy outfit; so a good game should result.

The game will get under way at 8.15 p.m. at the - Recreation Grounds, and it is hoped that the fans turn out in large numbers to cheer for the locals. The Trent Valley League entry is the only softball team in the village this year and needs your support. So come out and give the boys your help.

Sidney Factory Closes Doors

Sidney - cheese factory, located on the second concession of Sidney has closed its doors after more than 50 years of continuous operation. The factory, equipment, house and lot are being offered for sale and the farmers of the district will be forced to find another outlet for their milk.

According to Everett Hubble, president of the factory, there is not enough milk to keep the actory running. There are too many farmers sending their milk to the dairies," said Mr. Hubble. "The dairies are able to pay more for the milk than the cheese factories can and that is the reason that so many factories have been forced to close this year."

The Sidney cheese factory has been on its present site for 50 years. Prior to this it was called the Prowers cheese factory and was situated across from its present location.

Farm Boys On Salada Tour of East States

After a week of sight seeing, the four Ontario farm boys now touring the Eastern United States under the direction of LeRoy G. Brown, provincial agricultural representative at Lindsay, report themselves as being just a little breathless. Following a preliminary stop at the Ridgetown, Ontario, Experimental Station and Agricultural School, the party called at the headquarters of the Ohio Breeders Co-Operative at Tiffin, where they had an opportunity to stuyding the elaborate facilities for artificial insemination servicing herds throughout the state. While in Ohio, they also visited the famous Blubaugh and Maiabar Farms, the latter owned by Louis Bromfield, and Pleasant Hill Lake, a major development in the Muskingum Conservancy District. This spring, part of the area bordering the Mohawk Dam was flooded to a depth of 35 feet but has since been planted to grain and corn.

In Lexington, Kentucky, horses were the main attraction and the boys were shown over such well known places as Whitney Farms, Green Tree Farms, the Widener Farms, and Spendthrift Farms. One stallion at the Spendthrift Farm is said to be valued at $500,000. They also had a chance to examine the test grass plots at the University of Kentucky.

The trip for winners of the Junior Inter-County Horse Plowing event at the 1950 International Plowing Matches is being sponsored by the Salada Tea Company.

Items of Interest St. Paul's-Carmel

Bequests

Dr. V. T. Mooney, Treasurer of the United Church of Canada, is issuing a special appeal inviting the United Church rank and file to make bequests to the church. These may be made for Missions, pensions, publications, specific projects or for the local church or both. Since church union $4,500,000 has been received from this source at the head office besides gifts direct to local congregations.

Letters will be sent to all lawyers in Canada inviting their interest and co-operation in furthering this project.

St. Paul's and Carmel need donors to start such gifts for Endowment Funds in the local church. Many congregations have been enriched by the gift of property after it was no longer required by the donors. For more detailed information consult your pastor.

Stained Glass Windows

Down from the ages have come varied forms of preserving to posterity the memory of the event or person of the day.

The graven stones of the ancients, the pyramids, the column, the triumphal arch — all spoke forth their message to succeeding generations.

So in the middle ages came into being the art of painting on glass and burning in the colour to such a degree that even time itself should be thwarted in its effort to destroy.

And now amid all the many ways in which the deeds or names of men may be preserved, stained glass is one of the most effective and at the same time most in keeping with the spirit of the age.

Parent's Night

The King George High School, Stirling, was open to visitors last Wednesday when Principal J. L. Good and members of the staff cordially welcomed visitors. The High School is a great asset to the village. It has graduated many students to positions of honour and responsibility. It would be a worthy undertaking to compile a record of all graduates by years since the first Grammar School was opened about a century ago.

High level negotiations are underway looking forward to the organic union of the Church of England (Anglican) and the United Church of Canada. These are already providing a working basis in new frontier settlements to prevent over-lapping. It is not expected that any action will affect communities like Stirling for twenty-five or fifty years. That is of course a very short time in church history.

Religious Education

The year-end examination in Religious Education at the Stirling Public School in Grades VII and VIII was very satisfactory. Of 26 pupils who wrote papers, 14 obtained first class honours; 3 second class honours; 2 third class honours and 6 others pass standing. The spirit and interest of the classes was excellent. Principal Hall is to be congratulated.

The Glen Ross and Riverside Schools also completed their examinations with credit to their teachers, Mrs. Jack Bush and Mrs. Russell Pyear.

Rawdon Council

The Rawdon Council is said to have promised attention to the little Cemetery Road running north from Carmel Church. The time is at hand to redeem this promise. We understand the rural mail carrier has to drive six extra miles every day as a result of the condition of this road. The gravel dumped at the south end adjoining the Town Line eighteen months ago is now proving its worth. With the Carmel congregation beautifying the Cemetery and the Council attending to this long neglected road it should become a passable side road. Let's hope it is on the priority list for early attention.

The Town Line has been greatly improved during the past year especially to the Glen Ross side road. From this corner west it could well receive attention especially in some spots. Perhaps the Council would also experiment with calcium chloride from the Fair Grounds to Grillsview Farm.

A vocal and pianoforte Recital will be held in St. Paul's Church, Monday June 11th at 8 p.m. by some of the pupils of Mrs. A. E. Baker, A.R.C.T., including pupils of the Public and High Schools of Wooler. It is expected that Earle F. W. Baker and Shirley M. Baker will be guest artists. Admission will be by invitation. There is no charge though an offering will be received in aid of St. Paul's Junior Choir. Interested persons may obtain invitations from any pupil or by telephoning the parsonage.

Flags in Stirling

Our Council is to be congratulated on its fine Union Jack unfurled at the Community Hall. This with the flag of the Loyal Orange Association, helps to give the village a face lifting. A former Warden of Hastings County resident of the village has a fine cluster of British flags on his verandah, while a large Canadian flag adorns the home of a well known druggist. By a little effort we could dress up our village. Let all flags be unfurled for every day of the summer season especially.

Bicycle Racks

It is hoped that provision will be made at the new Public School in Stirling for a bicycle rack with a cover if possible. Such racks should be standard equipment for every High and Public School.

Lilac Sunday

The sweet incense of hundreds of lilac clusters ranging from snowy white to deep purple tastefully arranged by Mrs. W. T. Elliott, filled with fragrance St. Paul's Auditorium last Sunday. First gifts came from Jean Anne and Eddie Mayhew and were followed by deep purples provided by Mrs. Russel Hubel and whites and a special domestic cultivated spray given by the gracious sisters, Mrs. Sager and Miss Smith, of Oak Hills. The kind ladies placed whole trees at the disposal of the church. To Mrs. Elliott and all who gathered or gave lilacs, tulips and flags a gracious thank you. Mrs. Thos. MacConnell very thoughtfully sent a vase of tastefully arranged Lily of the Valley for the pulpit. Some who might have provided flowers will doubtless feel a sense of reproach for neglecting this opportunity.

The little Church at Carmel was quite the equal of St. Paul's on Lilac Sunday. To beautifully selected lilacs were added spirea interspersed with prize tulips. Mrs. Brooks and her assistants are to be congratulated.

Next Sunday we will welcome peonies and other blooms. Let us outlaw "skimpiness" in providing flowers for the church.

Music

Festival fever was reflected in the music at St. Paul's when the choir sang unaccompanied Haydn's lovely "Creation" and a group of keen-agers, "This Is The Sabbath Morn" by Mendelssohn. Mr. Harry Brown gave an excellent interpretation of "If With All Your Hearts" from the Elizah.

A large gathering of members, adults and visitors were on hand Monday evening when the A.Y.P.A. met for its regular meeting. Shirley Ackers, President, was chairman. The Rector opened with prayers and led in a period of sing-song, action songs and games.

The special guest and speaker for the evening was introduced by Mr. Secker, as a personal friend, Mr. Norman Francis, of Belleville, who spoke on the subject of "Photography as a Hobby." The speaker gave his own experiences with regard to the purchase of the right kind of camera, including movies. He then explained taking pictures. CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

THE MIXING BOWL

BY Anne Allan

HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! It would be serious if eggs were rationed to our family. We use eggs for breakfast and baking. There are times when the flock almost fail us. Only the other day when Junior was helping gather eggs he looked suspiciously at one hen and said, "Is she sitting or setting?" We only questioned whether the hen was laying or lying.

To make wholesome and nutritious desserts recipes call for milk and eggs and that brings to mind baked custards and the variations. A custard is simply milk thickened with egg yolks. (The whites can be saved to make meringue, frostings, angel cake, etc.) The eggs and sugar should be beaten together, the warm milk poured over them; then ladle the mixture into custard cups for baking. A smooth, firm custard is the result of baking in a constant, low-temperature oven until the mixture can be cut with a silver knife which comes out clean.

Baked Custard

1 quart milk
5 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1-3 cup sugar
¼ tsp salt
½ tsp. vanilla
⅛ tsp. nutmeg

Beat egg yolks slightly and combine with sugar, salt. Pour the scalded milk into egg mix stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Arrange custard cups in a pan containing ½ inch of water then pour mixture into them. Bake in preheated electric oven of 325 degrees for 50 to 60 mins.

Variations:

1. Carmel Custard: Caramelize 4 tbsps. of the sugar required in the recipe. Cool a little before adding it to the scalded milk to prevent curdling.
2. Cocoanut custard: Place a tablespoon of shredded cocoanut in each cup before pouring in the mixture.
3. Grapenut custard: Add a half cup of grapenuts to a quart casserole of custard before baking.
4. Coffee custard: Combine 2 cups strong coffee and 2 cups milk as the liquid in basic recipe.

Soft Custard

3 egg yolks
¼ cup sugar
⅛ tsp. salt
2 cups milk
1 tsp. grated lemon

Beat egg yolks slightly and add sugar, lemon and salt. Scald milk and slowly pour into eggs, stirring constantly over boiling water. Cook until mixture coats a silver spoon. Chill thoroughly. Serve as a sauce or fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and pour into sherbets.

Mocha Souffle

3 tbsps. butter
3 tbsps. flour
1-3 cup milk
⅔ cup coffee
4 egg yolks
⅓ cup sugar
½ tsp. vanilla
4 egg whites
¼ tsp. salt

Melt butter and blend in the flour. Stir in the milk and coffee and cook until thick. Beat egg yolks and sugar until creamy, adding the sauce slowly to these ingredients. Cook oven an electric element turned Low until thick. Add vanilla and cool. Whip egg whites with salt until stiff. Bake the souffle in a 7 inch casserole, in an electric oven at 325 degrees for about 35 minutes. Serve at once with cream or whipped cream.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. J. A. asks, Whether it is necessary to always bake souffles?

Answer: No, a good result may be obtained by steaming in a greased 2 quart double boiler over (not in) boiling water for about three-quarters of an hour. Invert the souffle onto a hot plate.

Mrs. S. R. asks: Why do I encounter trouble making puddings with an electric mixer?

Answer: Puddings should be lighter and better made with an electric mixer. Here are a few rules: Whip egg whites at high speed. Whip egg yolks at medium speed. Whip gelatine mixtures that are nearly set at medium speed. Whip snow puddings and similar desserts after all ingredients are combined at high speed until the mixture holds its shape.

Course In Leadership Training At Madoc

The second in the three series of Leadership Training Courses held under the auspices of the Diocesan A.Y.P.A. Council, was held in Madoc on Friday, May 18th. Representatives from Madoc, Tweed, Marmora, Roslin and Stirling were present.

The Rev. H. C. Secker, Convenor of these courses, was in the chair. Registration of members was in charge of Jim Wright. The chairman led in singing and games.

Opening prayers were said by Cannon J. Brownlie, of Marmora. The first speaker, John Brownlie, Jr., outlined the need for leadership in fellowship, stressing particularly recreation and sports. He spoke of his experiences in camp life and pointed out the many ways by which the A.Y. programme could be related to recreation.

The Rev. F. Downing, of Tweed, then spoke on Leadership in Edification. He suggested many programmes which would educate and enlighten the minds of the members. Studies of social problems, discussions of biographies, music appreciation, and other phases of edification as they relate to the spiritual life of people, were touched upon.

After some discussion of these two inspiring talks, the meeting was closed by Rev. A. Page, of Roslin. The ladies of Madoc Parish then served a delicious lunch.

Meeting of May 25th

The last in a series of three meetings was held on Friday, May 25th at Madoc, with a good attendance from the Deanery. The Convenor for Leadership Training, Rev. H. C. Secker, was chairman and conducted a short sing-song. Rev. Henry Hill, of Belleville, Chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer and was introduced by the chairman as the special speaker.

Mr. Hill, who spent a year in England doing Post Graduate at the University of Cambridge, gave an interesting summary of his experiences with the hop pickers of Southern England. In company with other students and members of the Franciscan Order, he lived with the pickers and did Evangelistic work among them. He spoke of Brother Edward, a devoted Clergyman who inaugurated this great work of witness to the Christian Faith during the period of hop picking. The work of Bishop Walter Carey and his Village Evangelists was touched upon. Mr. Hill emphasised the need for more witnesses for Christ and the church among the youth of the nation.

The chairman then called upon Jean Green and Canon Creegan, of Belleville, to conduct a discussion on the formation of a Local Council of the A.Y.P.A. This was done by means of questions and answers. The names of the different councils and their functions was explained. The purpose of a Local Council is to see that the individual branches come together for fellowship and mutual help in the understanding of and the working out of the programme of the Association.

The elections resulted as follows: Jean Green, Belleville, President; Enid Coombs, Stirling, Vice-President; Ruth Danford, Madoc, Treasurer; Jas. Wright, Secretary, Stirling; Rev. T. H. Good, Madoc, Chaplain.

The name of the organization is, "The Local Council A.Y.P.A. of Hastings and Prince Edward Deaneries." The first meeting of the new group will be held in the fall when a Constitution will be adopted.

The ladies of Madoc W.A. served a delicious lunch. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. T. H. Good.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL

Unless care is taken in selecting the proper chemical for the particular job to be done, more damage than benefit may result, from chemical weeding of field and horticultural crops, warns J. S. Leefe, Senior Agronomist at the Experimental Station at Kentville, N.S.

Mr. Leefe, who notes that chemical weeding has become an accepted modern agricultural practice, points out that it depends on the fact that certain chemirals show a selective action in their effect on plants.

It is therefore necessary to find chemicals for which the desirable crop plants show a high degree of tolerance and which will kill or severely injure infesting weed plants.

For instance, cereals may be weeded of mustard and certain other broad-leafed weeds with 2,4-D. Carrots and related vegetables may be weeded with the type of oils used by the dry-cleaning trade. Pastures may be rid of certain types of brush by spraying with 2,4-D and peas have been successfully weeded with di-nitro compounds.

TESTING HEALTH APPROVAL SEED

Seed Health Approval was granted official status in June,, 1950, to seeds of peas and beans, and Plant Products Division of the Department of Agriculture undertook the responsibility of tagging and sealing seeds which meet the stringent requirements of both field inspection and laboratory tests.

Among the diseases which attack peas and beans are those caused by microscopic plants known as fungi, says E. Robertson, District Analyst-in-Charge of the Winnipeg Seed Laboratory of the Division. The most devastating of these diseases appears as dark-coloured spots on the leaves, stems and pods of the plants. Under conditions favourable for the development of the diseases reduced yields and the unsightliness of the market product bring lower returns to growers. These losses can be largely avoided by planting seed that is known to be disease-free.

The health condition of seed lots can be determined in the laboratory by growing surface sterilized seeds under aseptic conditions and distinguishing the pathogenic fungi from those which cause little or no damage. To make the test, continues Mr. Robertson, four hundred seeds are counted out of a representative sample. The seeds are immersed in a two per cent available chlorine solution for several minutes. This destroys all the organisms on the surface of the seed. The disinfectant is drained off and the seeds placed on top of a thin layer of jelly-like material (agar) in shallow covered glass dishes. Both the glassware and agar are sterilized beforehand. The fungi which develop during the next ten days are, consequently, those present within the seed. The harmful disease-causing fungi are identified by using microscopes which magnify from 10 to 430 diameters.

HIGHER FEEDING VALUE FROM TIMOTHY HAY

To get the highest feeding value from timothy hay, the crop must be cut at the stage when the first blooms appear. Protein feeds are expensive, so it is logical to cut hay before the protein content of the leaves and stems is lowered in the natural process of ripening.

Studies made at the Forage Crops Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, of the protein content of timothy at different stages of maturity, show that the protein content of the hay drops rapidly afer the first bloom appears, says W. R. Childers.

In studying the changes that take place in plants chemists find that the cell walls of the tissues become hardened by the production of an insoluble lignin (fibre) substance as the plants become more mature. These lignin substances provide strength to the stems but they lower the nutritional value of the plants for seed.

Where timothy is grown for hay, it is usually sown in a mixture with red clover. Here again, it pays to cut early! It has been shown that there is an increase in the size of undigested bits of plant tissue in the feces of sheep, as the maturity of the red clover plants advanced from an early vegetable stage to a stage where the heads become brown.

Mr. Childers points out that many people are guilty of waiting to cut hay until that bottom grass grows — just a little more. Don't waste protein feed by late cutting this summer, it's the quality of hay that fills the milk cans.

MILKING MACHINE SANITATION

Improperly cared-for milking machines often add billions of bacteria to milk. Rubber, being porous, is hard to keep clean. During milking, some of the milk solids get worked into the pores. The butterfat causes the rubber to soften and lose its shape, while the other milk solids provide abundant food for bacteria. In the pores of the rubber where they are out of reach of brushes and sterilizing rinses, these bacteria are able to multiply enormously. At the next milking, as the liners are contracted and relaxed with each pulsation, these bacteria are squeezed out and washed away in the milk. Many of these bacteria are not killed by pasteurization, and their presence in large numbers in the milk leads to trouble.

Numerous methods of caring for the teat cup assembly have been recommended, says Dr. K. C. Johns, Division of Bacteriology and Dairy Research, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Probably the simplest, and certainly the cheapest and most reliable, depends upon filling the assembly with a weak (0.5 per cent) lye solution after first rinsing out the milk residue. Lye dissolves the casein and saponifies the fat, while at the same time destroys most of the bacteria present. For long tube milking machines the lye solution is best used in a solution rack; this must be set up perfectly level, and the lye solution must make contact with the entire inner surface. The lye solution may be prepared by making up a stock solution, dissolving one can of lye in 1 gallon cold — preferably soft — water, then diluting 4 ounces of this to 1 gallon for use. An alternative method is to add 2 heaping teaspoons of lye to 1 gallon of water, stirring thoroughly to dissolve it. Dr. Johns cautions that unless the lye solution is up to strength, it will not do the job properly.

The life of the liners can be greatly extended by having two sets and using them alternately. After being used for a week, they should be boiled in a 2 per cent lye solution for 10-15 minutes. Directions for this procedure can be obtained from the Division of Bacteriology and Dairy Research, Science Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Some farmers are afraid to use lye solution, having heard that it damages the rubber. This is not true. Just the opposite is the case. Instead of harming it, lye solution, especiallly when hot, extracts traces of fat, and prolongs the life of the rubber. It is true that when old liners are boiled in lye, they may give off an unpleasant odour, but this is simply because the lye is removing the decomposing milk solids and bacteria hiding in the pores and crevices of the rubber. If boiled weekly, Dr. Johns points out they will never get into such a state, and they will retain their shape and last much longer.

RESEARCH ON POTATO SCAB

At what stage of growth do potatoes start becoming scabby? Tests at the department of Agriculture's Laboratory of Plant Pathology at St. Catharines, Ontario, show that infection may occur anytime during the growing season just as long as the potatoes are increasing in size.

Preliminary tests also show that potato scab may be reduced as much as 75 per cent by the incorporation of soybeans into the soil. Scientists consider that the soybeans create favourable conditions for certain soil organisms that are antagonistic to those causing scab on potatoes.

CHECK THE CUTTING BAR

Many people spend countless hours top-dressing, rolling, fertilizing, watering and weeding their garden lawn, and then in half-an-hour with a lawn mower undo much of the good by cutting the grass too short. Most lawns are fully exposed to the sun, and the shorter the grass the more the roots will be burnt by its scorching summer rays; the more quickly the moisture in the soil will dry out; and the more easily will weeds encroach.

The cutting bar of the lawn mower should not be set lower than 1½ to 2 inches from the ground — except for creeping bent grasses which are seldom used for garden lawns. Frequent cutting is preferable and then the clippings can be left on the lawn where they will be a good source of rich nutrient. If the mowing is infrequent and the grass long, the clippings should be removed, because they smother the grass roots and cause dead patches in th lawn.

Merely sprinkling the lawn with water won't do much good except to encourage the shallow-rooted weeds. Watering should be continued until the soil is thoroughly moistened to a depth of four inches. A good soaking once a week is better than a light sprinkling every other night.

ONLY SIX BOARDS WILL OPERATE THIS YEAR IN PROVINCE

Only six cheese boards will operate in Ontario this year it has been decided by the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association. Last year 18 boards operated in the province.

Under the new arrangement there will be only one board to operate in Western Ontario, this to be at Stratford. Belleville will be the only board in Central Ontario and the other four will be in Eastern Ontario. They are Brockville, Cornwall, Kemptville and Vankleek Hill.

In the Bay of Quinte area, the Napanee, Kingston and Madoc cheese boards will not operate under the new set-up, although Napanee and Kingston had already opened for the year.

Charles N. Heath, secretary of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association at Belleville, said he did not know the dates on which the six cheese boards will hold their meetings.

MILK QUALITY IMPROVES GREATLY

Ontario dairy farmers are to be congratulated on the improvement they have made in the quality of milk they are delivering to dairy manufacturing plants in the Province, according to C. L. Lackner, Director of Dairying, for the Ontario Department of Agriculture. He says the present indications are that only a very small percentage of the milk will have to be rejected as Grade C milk after June 1st. This is the date on which the new regulations requiring the grading of all milk going into manufacturing plants become effective.

To back up his statement, Mr. Lackner points out that in recent weeks, only 5 or 6% of the milk going to many of these plants has been C grade, and there were some plants which received all A or B grade milk. This is a decided improvement over the record of a few months ago. As a result the Dairy Branch Instructors, who have been carrying on an educational campaign on this matter, feel greatly encouraged and anticipate no serious problems when the regulations come into force. These men report they have received excellent cooperation from the milk producers and from the operators of condenseries, cheese factories and other milk manufacturing plants in effecting this improvement in milk quality.

WOOD—EGGLETON

Tall standards of pastel tinted snapdragons and tulips formed a lovely background for the marriage of Dorothy E. Eggleton, daughter of Mrs. N. E. Eggleton, Stirling, to Herbert M. Wood, son of Mrs. H. M. Wood, Stirling, at the home of the bride's mother, on Saturday, May 26th at 3 p.m. The Rev. W. H. Clarke, Deseronto, cousin of the groom, officiated.

The wedding music was provided by Mrs. S. Boyce, Stirling.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Fred Eggleton, the bride looked charming in her bridal gown of white lace over taffeta carrying a cascade of red roses. Her headdress was a tiara of white flowers. Her only ornaments were a rhinestone braclet and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Carl Potter, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, gowned in pale blue lace over taffeta with matching headdress, carrying a cascade of pink roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Carl Potter, Stirling.

The reception followed with the bride's mother receiving the guests, wearing black sheer with a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the mother of the groom, wearing navy crepe and a corsage of red roses. The buffet luncheon was served by Misses Rosa Spry, Elsie Irvine and Mrs. S. R. Boyce.

The happy couple left for a motor trip to north western Ontario and the United States. For travelling, the bride wore a white gabardine suit with navy accessories.

On their return they will reside in Stirling.

Legion Notes

The regular meeting for business was held on May 1st, and with a good crowd participating and plenty of important items on the agenda, turned out to be one of the best to date.

Several motions that provoked considerable discussion were carried, the most important of these being a decision to open a Building Fund Account.

The second meeting of the month, "strictly social" held on May 15th, turned into a regular off-the-record "pow-wow" regarding future doings.

Special Business Meeting

The special business meeting was held on May 22nd at the Legion Room with a splendid attendance. Items discussed and passed included the following: Summer meetings; cigarettes for Canadians in Korea; Branch by-laws; gift to local Cubs; building committee; ladies' night; sports, regarding a ball team and bowling, and the Fall Fair, with reference to Legion participation.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of a Past President's Pin to Cde. Arthur Abernethy, President of the Branch during 1950. With a few appropriate words the chairman asked Cde. Abernethy to step forward, and with the comrades at attention, Sergt.-at-Arms, Cde. Chas. Barnard pinned on the emblem of the Legion's regard. The recipient made a suitable reply and resumed his seat amid the applause and congratulations of his comrades. g
